

Make an outing something special.

Pretty lightweight dinnerware will highlight woodland picnic

Winter is finally behind us, and now it's the season of sunshine and short sleeves. And that means it's time for swimming, sailing and, of course, picnics in the woods.

This year consider making picnics even more special. Start with an attractive wicker picnic basket—it can double as a table at the chosen site.

Add a favorite bottle of wine, fresh fruit, warm bread and a vase for fresh-picked wildflowers. Mother Nature will provide the perfect atmosphere. The next consideration is the perfect dinnerware.

Corelle dinnerware by Corning, sturdier by far than traditional paper plates, is an ideal addition to any outdoor picnic. After all, picnics are a time to get out of the house, a time to forget one's worries and relax. Few people want to spend the afternoon holding paper plates in place and cleaning the environment of the ones that fly away.

Convenient Corelle dishes stack easily, are lightweight for carrying and make even the simplest picnic seem just a little more elegant.

And what better dinnerware pattern for dining in the woods than Corning's new Woodland brown. Available on both Corelle dinnerware and Pyrex ware, the brown and white pattern complements the entire surroundings of trees, leaves and moss-covered rocks.

For everything from a romantic rustic picnic to a graduation buffet for fifty, the great outdoors is the place to be this season.

Remember, you don't have to be at home in your dining room to set an attractive table.
