

Furman Begins Year Eight As Head Coach

By JOHN DOSER

Steve Muzzi is on his second tour of duty as athletic director at DeSales of Geneva High School.

DeSales, one of the smaller schools in Section 5, Class C with about 200 students, does in its fair share of championships, trophies, however.

Last year, for example, DeSales won the Section 5, Class C football crown second to Class A Lyons in the Finger Lakes League's Eastern Division; the Section 5 Class D and Finger Lakes West girls' basketball titles; and the Finger Lakes West Golf title.

Harry Furman, the dollar-a-year head football coach, is back for his eighth season; his assistant coaches include Bob Paney, Joe Ceoli, Bill Henricks, Jim McNicholas, Max Hickey and Frank Mantell.

DeSales' only other Fall interscholastic sports is girls' soccer which is coached by Mack Spellacy.

Ann Smith Gobe is the new girls' volleyball coach; she's back after taking a year off, Muzzi says.

John Fitzgerald returns for his fourth season as head boys' basketball coach and Mack Spellacy is back as the JV cage coach.

Doreen DeSain returns for her third year as head girls' basketball coach and Dennis Doell will be coaching boys' volleyball.

DeSain, whose Lady Saints won the Finger Lakes West and Section 5 Class D titles last year, has a number of juniors back from last year's championship team.

There is one winter sports opening — Muzzi is looking for a boys' bowling coach since Dave Pratt, the previous bowling coach, wants to concentrate on varsity.

Pratt will be assisted by Frank Pane; Mack Spellacy coaches girls' softball; and Bob Manion handles varsity golf.

DeSales competes against much larger Class A schools in schools in football but pretty much stays Class C in the other sports, according to Muzzi.

Muzzi says a lot of starters are back for football and the basketball and baseball teams only lost three and four players respectively, via graduation.

Muzzi assists basketball coach Fitzgerald and often ends up substituting for other coaches who are absent from time to time.

245 Open Year At St. Patrick's

Elmira—A Mass Friday, Sept. 8, will be the first Liturgy of the school year at St. Patrick's Junior High School. Returning to the school will be 135 eighth graders, joined by 110 seventh graders.

Two sisters are joining the school's faculty, Sister Julia Clare Richards, formerly St. Mary's principal, and Sister Barbara Skornia.

Sister Joan Cawley, principal, also noted that Sister Barbara will be coordinating the school's participation in the education for justice program.

Teachers in the school will be participating in a teacher's conference Sept. 22 given by Sister Kathleen Kircher, diocesan coordinator of ministry to the separated and divorced, Sister Joan noted. The workshop will be on the impact of divorce on the education ministry.

Sister Julia Clare reports that St. Mary's new principal, Sister Marilyn Reeves, will find the faculty and program intact from last year when she joins the school. The enrollment, at 250 students, is down slightly, she noted, but more registrations usually are received before school starts.

One direction to steer an undecided student:

One often-overlooked choice for a high school graduate is the training offered by the Army Reserve.

It's a good way to get job training that may someday lead to full-time civilian employment.

It's a good way to earn extra money. Army Reservists are well paid for Basic and Advanced Training, plus the 16 hours a month and 2 weeks Annual Training they put in.

It's a good way to see more of the world, to meet new people, to discover what they really want from life.

Army Reserve training needn't interrupt college plans, either. Training periods usually fall in summer. The Army Reserve is one alternative. A good one.
