

Students Learn to Cook

The children in these photographs studied nutrition this summer and learned how to cook. By Aug. 4 they were able to put together a splendid dinner, a farewell party for the nutrition teacher, Katie Cosgrove and Kathy Budney, who also worked in the program run by Sister Mary Lou Woznick at Holy Redeemer. The project was part of the St. Joseph Sisters' Summer of Service, in which laywomen help the sisters in their summer ministries and live, if they wish, at the Motherhouse. Sister Marjorie Maybee has charge of the overall program.

Unique Retreat Set For Divorced Parents

A small number of openings are still available for single parents and their children at the first Divorced Catholic Group Family Vacation Week at Camp Stella Maris.

According to Sister Kathleen Kircher, diocesan coordinator of ministry to separated, divorced and remarried Catholics, the remaining openings will be filled on a first come — first served basis.

The week of August 27 to Sept. 2 has been reserved at the camp for the event. Sister Kathleen said that features of the week will be educational, spiritual, and recreational activities for both adults and children. "The spiritual dimension that the camp provides will give the week a deeper dimension than a purely secular family camp experience," she said.

She said that, because of the "wonderful effort" of camp director Ray Tette, the stipend for the week will be $30 per person. That fee includes all meals.

The planning committee for the event has secured volunteers to fill the positions of nurse, athletic director and arts and crafts director, she said.

Information about the week and reservations for it are available from Angella Gallo (716) 594-9255 evenings; Fred Cole (716) 381-8706 evenings; Pat Yawman (716) 663-2889; days; Sister Kathleen, (716) 436-5450, days.

SOME THOUGHTS TO CONSIDER

"The Funeral"
By Ed Sulewski

When someone dies, the two to four-day period of the funeral begins. The first formal acknowledgement is the wake — or viewing of the body of the deceased. This visitation period, usually in the funeral home, is of great emotional value to the family of the deceased. By your presence and comfort, you express to the family how much their loved one meant to you, and how much they will be missed. This visitation is followed by a funeral service which is, for many, a time of spiritual reaffirmation.

Following the funeral service, the body is committed to its final resting place in a grave, mausoleum, or crematory.

The days of the funeral serve several purposes — to help the family accept the fact of the death, to allow friends and relatives to express their sympathy and, finally, to become a final tribute to the deceased.

There is no single prescribed form for any part of the funeral — and the desires of the family are always given preference. If there are any questions we can answer about our services, we would be glad to do so.
