

St. Bernard's Library Increases Tape Resources

A summer project is completed — $800 worth of audio-cassettes presented by the Diocesan Office of Religious Education have been prepared for circulation by the St. Bernard's Seminary library staff.

"These cassettes are for all, especially those involved in catechetical ministry: catechists, coordinators, clergy, and seminarians," said Father Lewis Brown, director of Religious Education.

"The gift of 115 tapes puts our collection over 1000," said Father Jasper Pennington, library director. "The audio-cassette library began five years ago with the purchase of talks on spirituality by the Trappist Thomas Merton. Our holdings are professionally recorded tapes, both academic and pastoral, in such areas as scripture, dogma, liturgy, morality, prayer and spiritual direction," he added.

The tapes presented by the Office of Religious Education deal with sacramental preparation, youth ministry, adult education, family education, catechetical theory and creative teaching. The authors include Richard Reichart, Mary Reed Newland, Gloria Durka, Leon MacKenzie, James DeGiacomo, Christiane Brusselman and Al MacBride. "These are the latest by the best in the field," observed Father Brown.

Commenting on the cassette gift, Joseph Kelly, director of Continuing Education for the diocese said, "The future of the Seminary lies in extending services to the wider ministerial community as well as helping people see St. Bernard's as a valuable theological resource — this project has helped accomplish both of these tasks."

"The audio-cassette library is the most frequently used service by our alumni," said Mrs. J. Byam, coordinator of mail-order services. A complete audio-visual catalogue has been published by St. Bernard's library and is available on request for $1. While the collection is geared toward the needs of the seminary students, faculty, the alumni and the professional parish staffs, the general public is welcome to use any of the materials in the library where listening facilities are available. A mail service is provided for alumni and parish personnel. For further details, contact the Library Office at St. Bernard's, 2260 Lake Ave., Rochester, 14612 — 254-1455.

Haughton No Stranger to Rochester

Rosemary Haughton, the London-born theologian who will give three major addresses during this year's Parish Council Congress, is no stranger to the Rochester area.

Three years ago, Nazareth College awarded her an honorary degree of Doctor of Letters.

Mrs. Haughton is the child of an English mother and an American father, and surprisingly, the author of more than 30 books has had no formal college education other than some art training in London and Paris after World War II.

She is also the recipient of an honorary Doctor of Divinity from Notre Dame University, and the Avila Award from St. Teresa's College in Winona, Minn.

Her work has garnered awards in several forums.

Mrs. Haughton will speak on "The Christian Story" at 8:30 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 6; and "The Apostolate of the Lity," at 9:45 a.m., and "The Catholic Enterprise," at 2:45 p.m. the following day. The congress is being held at St. Agnes High School.

The event is sponsored by the diocesan Office of Pastoral Ministry.

Italian Feast

Van Etten— The people of St. Pius Tenth Church will put on an Italian Festival dinner Sunday, Oct. 1, serving from 1 until 4 p.m. in the church hall on Main Street. The price is $3 for adults and $1.75 for the under-twelves, with no charge for preschoolers.

Now Blue Boy offers up to 10¢ a label.
