

Seated with Bishop Hogan at the head table were his brothers and sisters; Auxiliary Bishops John E. McCafferty, here making introductory remarks, and Dennis W. Hickey; and the heads of the three diocesan consultative bodies, Sister Mary Jean Smith of the Sisters Council, Brother Brian Walsh of the Diocesan Pastoral Council, and Father Louis Hohman of the Priests Council.

Good Words Cost Nothing But Are Worth Much

That's what the Mapledale Party House electric sign read Sunday night as it announced the testimonial for Bishop Joseph L. Hogan. And for the more than 700 who attended to applaud the bishop and his nine years of service to the diocese there were indeed many "good" words. The words meant love and brotherhood and sisterhood and reminiscences and anticipation. They said thank you for a job well done and for the inspiration to continue His work.

Mrs. Gertrude Brooks, the bishop's sister, and Bishop Hogan admire the special souvenir cards prepared for the occasion.

The bishop and his family greeted guests in a receiving line.

Photos By Susan McKinney

Photographer Susan McKinney caught the receiving line reflected in a mirror.

Overall scene of guests.