NFP Meeting . . . . . 8

Dr. Paul Marx, the nationally known Benedictine priest-sociologist and champion of pro-life causes, has been slated as one of the major speakers at a two-day conference on Natural Family Planning. The conference, to be held later next month, was announced recently by the Magisterium Lectures.

Science and Morality . . . 7

A major symposium will be held at Nazareth College next week to explore the moral issues raised by recent scientific methods and research. The conference will draw scientists, theologians and social workers from across the country. One of the featured speakers at the event will be Father Charles Curran, the Rochester-born moral theologian.

Upset Win . . . . . 12

"We didn't expect to make it this far at the beginning of the season," said Cardinal Mooney girls basketball coach Kathy Krenzer, when she discussed the Cards upset of Mercy. Though the Lady Cardinals jumped to a 14-5 lead early in the game, Mercy kept nipping away, but the final outcome was in Mooney's favor. Mooney, however, lost in the second round playoffs held last Saturday.

Census Taken . . . . . 8

There are "apostles" and "disciples" over at St. Boniface Church these days, as the parish readies for a massive census, the first in many years, which will seek out the spiritual and temporal needs of parishioners. The titles, "apostle" and "disciple" are given to the workers in the census.

SBA Lauds Courier . . . . 3

The Spina Bifida Association announced that it has presented a Service Award to the Courier-Journal for "outstanding cooperation and support for the objectives of the association." Cited were a centerfold on the disease and articles throughout the year making the community aware of the birth defect.

'Genesis' Draws 110 . . . . 9

More than 110 Ithacans are engaged, these days, in an unusual religious program at Immaculate Conception Church. The program which drew such attendance is "Genesis 2," the brainchild of Father Vincent Dwyer, the famed Trappist priest who also designed the current program of priests ministering to priests, underway throughout the diocese.

'Oppy' Given . . . . . 9

There was much rejoicing at St. Joseph's Hospital recently, when Father Timothy McGough was named this season's 'Oppy' award winner. The affable discolored Carmelite priest has been serving as associate chaplain to the hospital for several years.

Murphy Lecture Slated

Father Roman Murphy, the Carmelite priest who is internationally known for his work in the Old Testament, will inaugurate the Joseph P. Brennan Lectureship in Biblical Studies at St. Bernard's Seminary.

Father Murphy's lecture, "Israelite Wisdom and Christian Theology," will be delivered at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, April 3.

Father Murphy is the author of several books and articles, and series won the editorial boards of Concilium, Catholic Biblical Quarterly, and the Hermeneutic Biblical Commentary series. He teaches at Duke University, Durham, N.C.

The Brennan lectureship is named after the former rector and present Professor of Scripture at St. Bernard's.

'Daily Hello'

Church Women United (CWU) announced last week that it is now providing a service designed to allow ailing senior citizens to remain in their own homes.

The "Daily Hello" program provides for a volunteer to make a telephone call each day to the elderly person to see if everything is all right. If there is no answer the volunteer alerts appropriate authorities that help may be needed. The callers, CWU volunteers, pre-arrange a specific time for calling.

The CWU has asked those interested in volunteering their services of those who may wish to receive a Daily Hello to call 454-6443.

Archbishop Dies

Newark, N.J. (RNS) — Archbishop Thomas A. Boland, retired Archbishop of Newark, died at St. Mary's Hospital in Orange on St. Patrick's Day, March 17. He was 83.

Archbishop Boland, a bishop for 34 years, headed the Newark see from 1953 until he retired in 1974. He was the former bishop of Paterson, serving there from 1947 until 1952.

From 1

"When the BK band comes to Callan all serious work stops."

There is nothing the Irish like better than smiling faces and it was the one thing about the BK marchers this reporter heard all along the parade routes. Whether they were highstepping through sleet, performing routines in narrow, crowded streets or rushing to parade grounds — they were always smiling.

This goodnaturedness and professionalism not only paid off in winning awards and Irish hearts but sent them home with well deserved pride in a job well done.
