Master of Interests

Ask St. Agnes senior, Nancy Adams, about graphic designing, singing, taxidermy and she'll inform you about them all.

"Since I was two years old, I've been interested in art," was how she explained her drawing abilities. This artistic bent has taken her in the direction of fashion design and her drawings are based on the designs from the top fashion magazines. Her portrait portfolio is wellstocked with sketches detailed right down to the lines and veins of the hands.

Nancy doesn't only draw but puts her designing results to practical use. She has made her clothes from the creations she has made on the drawing board.

But in talking with Nancy, RapAround discovered that she likes singing better than anything else she does. Throughout her four years at St. Agnes she has been a member of the Glee Club and has participated in many shows including Kiss Me Kate and Carousel. She will be appearing in the Spring musical, Annie Get Your Gun.

With so much time spent in sketching and singing is there time left over for other activities? For Nancy there is — for the last year and a half she has been a photographic model for RIT. Asked if she has considered this as a possible career she said, "I'm five foot five — I'm not tall enough."

Even though each photographic session ties up a few hours, Nancy still finds time to pursue another fascinating hobby, taxidermy.

"I like animals and I consider it an art form," she said about this particular interest. She also has a brother in the business who has helped her in this hobby.

Nancy does the whole process herself — from skinning the animal, to preserving the skin, placing it on a wire frame, to the final stage of stuffing.

After June graduation, Nancy will pursue her fashion interests and take graphic courses at RIT.

Winners Circle

RapAround weekly will run a photo of a group of students taken somewhere in the diocese. One person will be circled and if that person brings the clipping to the Courier-Journal before noon of the Tuesday following our publication date, he or she will receive $5. This week's photo was taken during a McQuaid hockey game at RIT. The person circled above should bring the clipping to Joan M. Smith, Courier-Journal, by noon, Tuesday, April 3 to receive $5.

Sports Who's Who

Members of the high school basketball league all-stars as selected by league coaches for the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle include:

City-Catholic League, first team — Bob Keenehan (Cardinal Mooney) and Dave Roberson (McQuaid). Second team — Mike Goodberlet (Cardinal Mooney). Honorable Mention — Scott Sperrazza, Scott Quist and Mike Eblacker (Bishop Kearney); Todd Rose (McQuaid); Larry Lanpher (Cardinal Mooney).

City-Private League, first team — Mark Magliocco and Steve DiLaura (Aquinas). Honorable Mention — Bob Magee (Aquinas).

Steve Carter, Skip Edwards and Matt Peters combined to lead the DeSales (Geneva) Saints to a 2½-1½ bowling victory over rival Geneva High School. With the victory, DeSales claimed the Gary Michaels Memorial Trophy for the first time in three years.

It took 23 hockey games, but somebody finally scored against McQuaid's devastating forward line of Jim Post, John Shane and Tim Keegan. The threesome had held the opposition scoreless all season while they were on the ice, until the championship game against Irondequoit last week. The Indians' Ken Currie broke the string midway through the final period.

GRAD-NOTES — Joe Vaola (ex-Kearney) and Tony Ricci (ex-Aquinas) won the championships in their respective weight classes in the Bengal Bouts wrestling tournament at the University of Notre Dame. Vaola won in the 135-pound class and Ricci in the 149-pound classifications.

Freshman — Dan Hickey (ex-Kearney) and senior co-captain Dan Horn (ex-Aquinas) were both members of the SUNY Canton hockey team that won their sixth National Junior College Athletic Association Championship in the last seven years. The team also had the experience of playing in Europe this past winter where they won two, lost one and tied one against teams from Holland and West Germany.

Mary Dwyer (ex-Geneva-DeSales) finished tied for seventh place, nine shots behind winner JoAnne Carner, in the Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament in San Diego last week. Dwyer collected $4,080 for her finish.

Mary Ellen Hart (ex-Mooney) was a member of the Ithaca College women's varsity basketball team which recently completed a 9-7 season. Hart also played fullback on the Ithaca field hockey team which won the state championship.

Kare Cossaboon (ex-Mooney) finished sixth in the recent Women's National AAU 30 Kilometer race, running from Schenectady to Albany in 2 hours, 5 minutes and 18 seconds.

Jim Brown (ex-Aquinas), freshman defenseman, had four goals and eight assists in 38 games for the University of Notre Dame hockey team this year. The Fighting Irish finished the season 18-19-1. Senior Tom Farrell (ex-Kearney) had two assists in the nine games he played for the Irish.

Lady Cards Upset Mercy

By Terrance J. Brennan

The Cardinal Mooney girls basketball team broke open a tight game with two quick baskets in the final minute to boost the Cardinals to a 44-39 win over league rival Mercy in the first round of the Section Five girls basketball playoffs at Greece Arcadia High School.

"We didn't expect to make it this far at the beginning of the season, but we're glad to be here," said Cards' coach Kathy Krenzer. "The kids did a good job."

Mooney started the game as if it was going to run Mercy out of town as the Cards jumped to a 14-5 lead early in the second quarter. Mercy kept chipping away at Mooney, however, and closed the gap to three by the end of the third quarter, 31-28.

Joanne Horvath kept Mercy close the rest of the way, scoring eight of her game high 16 points in the final period. But it was never enough to give Mercy the lead.

With 55 seconds left in the game, Krenzer called time out leading 38-37.

"I told the kids to use the 30-second clock and work the ball," Krenzer said. "The only shot I wanted the kids to take was a lay-up, or, if they took an outside shot, to make sure that Mercy fouled them."

Heeding their coach's advice, the Cards worked the ball for 17 seconds before sophomore Mary Ellen Heindl put up a ten-footer. Heindl was fouled in the process, then calmly sank the two free throws to give the Cards a 40-

37 lead. As Mercy came back down court, Michelle McGuire stepped in front of a pass and fed teammate Laurie Pressley for an easy lay-up to ice the game and send Mooney into the second round of the playoffs against Greece Athena.

Marcy DiMartino and Marian Rhodes led the Cardinals with 11 points apiece.

Though the seniors lost, team members Marybeth Erb, Ann Havens, Barbara Naske, Sharon Neu and Karen Franz had a great time competing.

Junior Winners

Nazareth Academy juniors and seniors competed in an academic College Bowl program sponsored by the school's National Honor Society. All upperclassmen were eligible to try out and team members were chosen on the basis of their accuracy and speed in answering questions in a preliminary contest.

The juniors won the day behind the mental capabilities and the fast thinking of their team which included Mary Sharinon, Patty Mahns, Chris Pospula and Betsy Hinkelman, with Corrine Connelly and Marybeth Stone as alternates. Miss Mary Ann Satter was the moderator for the event.
