ND Spring Theater

"Whatever This Is We're All In It Together," will be the spring comedy at Notre Dame High School Friday, May 4, and Saturday, May 5, at 8:15 p.m. in the school auditorium. Four of the cast; which is being directed by Mrs. Claire Reidy, are, from left, Kathy McElveny, who will appear as Cunegonde; A. Dwyer Milliken, as Paquette; Dina Losito as Serafina, and P. McDermott Reidy, as Professor Pangloss.

Eight Performances For Molly Brown Cast

Cardinal Mooney High School will present "The Unsinkable Molly Brown", the weekends of May 4-5 and 11-12, 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. Tickets are $3.

There are 60 students in the cast with junior Diana Georger and freshman Bud Prevost in the leads. Directing the production is Brother Andrew Boone; choreography is by junior Chris Quenell; music direction under the baton of Brother Edward Boyer and choral director, Sister Marion Dimino.

Stage designs are being handled by Sister Virginia Taylor, Mrs. Virginia Probst, Brother John Donoghue and Mrs. Joyce Campo. Between the cast, production and costume crews there are 150 people involved in the production.

About the play, Brother Boone said, "It's a different show. It offers a breath of Spring air," and he proudly noted that 102 students turned out for the auditions. He went on to point out that this particular play is difficult. Also the time involved for preparation has been long. The performers began rehearsing in January, practicing after school from 2:30-5 p.m. and Sunday afternoons, 1-4 p.m.

St. Agnes Goes Western

Dolly Tate (Amy Alarie on right) becomes increasingly jealous of the growing friendship between sharpshooter Annie Oakley (Alanna Hill) and Frank Butler (Chris Whipple) in the St. Agnes play, "Annie Get Your Gun." Performances will be May 11-12, 8 p.m. Tickets may be reserved by calling the school or purchased at the door. Sister Ann Patrice Carrigan is directing the production with Marguerite Manning as musical director.

Art Variety At Mercy

Our Lady of Mercy High School is presenting a three day Arts Festival, May 2-4. The event consists of continuous entertainment throughout the school day, featuring student and guest performers. Some of this year's participants include James Wegman, SGA moderator, at the piano; freshman singer Kathleen O'Heaney; Paul Elliot, magician-ventriloquist from Brockport; Father William O'Malley (McQuaid) in "Cellophane Man"; a jazz combo from Penfield High; and Marcy Shapiro and friend, classical musicians from the Eastman School of Music.
