Parishes Help 16

Nine parishes in Elmira and Corning are involved in three separate efforts to sponsor Vietnamese families in their communities. With three parishes working in each group, the program is being conducted by the parish human development committees. One group, Our Lady of Lourdes, St. Patrick's and St. Mary's, is expecting its family any day. The group of St. Mary Our Mother, Horseheads; St. Charles Borromeo, Elmira Heights; and Ss. Peter and Paul, Elmira, is expecting refugees in August. The Corning group of St. Mary's, St. Vincent's and St. Patrick's is just beginning discussions on sponsorship.

Coach Introduced 14

At a press conference last week, McQuaid Jesuit High School introduced Bob Cohen, who will take over the duties of head basketball coach. Cohen, a native Rochesterian, has spent the last few years working in California at the Braille Institute, where he was director of physical education and recreation. Currently, he is a tutor in the special education program for the Rochester City School District and also is the coach of the Rochester Wheels, the wheelchair basketball team.

PAs Study Selves 9

The Pastoral Assistants organization in the diocese spent several days last week in an intensive evaluation of the ministries they perform both individually and collectively. They were assisted in the process by Dr. Katharine Webb of SUC Brockport.

Priests File Charges 3

An organization which represents about 40 per cent of the clergy in Chicago has filed a list of grievances against Cardinal John Cody with Pope John Paul II. In addition the priests have asked for a special audience with the pontiff to discuss their concerns with the administration of the archdiocese.

L'Arche Grows 8

L'Arche, a program designed to offer handicapped people alternatives to institutional living, has quietly become a real success story in Rochester. Since its start some five years ago, the L'Arche community has grown to include 50 apartments in the Southview Towers building and appears to be growing steadily.

Changes Studied 3

The U.S. bishops have authorized a comprehensive three-year study of the structural parts of the Mass, at the request of a growing number of bishops, priests and laity, the chief of the committee which will do the study said. Archbishop Rembert Weakland also said that no changes would be introduced until after the study had been completed and approved by the U.S. bishops and the Vatican.

Sent to Study 15

Sister Petrina Trybalski, 10 years a teacher at Nazareth Academy, will be on her way to Cracow, Poland for a summer academic session. As a Social Studies teacher, Sister has long been interested in Euro-Communism and is excited about the chance to see, at first hand, the educational and cultural aspects of a country which has deviated from the rigid politics of Moscow.

that the dramatic zenith was attained. Hundreds of thousands of worshippers assembled in the fields below the shrine, to hear the former Cardinal Karol Wojtyla. Praying to Mary, he said, "How greatly I desire on the occasion of meeting today to entrust to you all the difficult problems of the societies, systems, and states - problems that cannot be solved with hatred, war, and self-destruction, but only by peace, justice, and respect for the rights of peoples and nations."

At one point, with a huge grin, John Paul suddenly wondered aloud what the Italian prelates in his entourage must have been saying to themselves:

"What are we going to do with this Polish pope, this Slavic pope? What can we do?"

Thunderous applause and cheers interrupted the pope's talk for 10 minutes.

Clarification

The Courier-Journal inadvertently omitted the name of 40th anniversary jubilarian Father John D. Malley from its Page 1 congratulations flag last week. Father's story did appear inside that issue, however, and his picture, the week before. The Courier-Journal indeed wishes Father Malley, "Ad Multos Annos."

Californian Franciscan No. 1

Assisi, Italy (RNS) - A western province of the California Franciscan has been elected minister-general of the 22,000-member Franciscan Order, the second largest religious order in the Roman Catholic Church.

Father John Vaughn, 51, succeeds Father Constantine Koser, a Brazilian who has been minister - general since 1967.

Father Vaughan has been serving as provincial of the Franciscans, with headquarters in Oakland, Calif. He will reside at the Franciscan headquarters in Rome.

The Franciscans were founded in 1209 by St. Francis of Assisi but split into three branches soon after the founder's death. The Order of Friars Minor is the largest group, second only to the 28,000-member Society of Jesus.
