

Life Support Ethics To Be Seminar Topic

Elmira — The concern for death with dignity, the question of when death occurs, the moral aspects of heart transplants and the implementation of mechanical devices to prolong life will be reviewed in the next "To Your Health Seminar," Wednesday, Nov. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in St. Joseph's Hospital's Doctors Meeting Room.

questions will be received from the audience. Both participants are prepared professionally to provide insight into the subject in a fashion understood by a lay audience.

The "To Your Health Seminars" are conducted monthly on the first Wednesday, and are sponsored free of charge to the general public through the cooperation of the Development Council of St. Joseph's and participating professionals.

The subject, Ethics of Life Support, will be presented by Dr. Joseph E. Calderone, an internist, and Father Cyril Guise, OCD, director of the Pastoral Care Department at St. Joseph's.

Reservations may be made by contacting the Community Relations Office at St. Joseph's, 733-9137.

After the presentation,

Leadership. Tom Ryan's Record.

Widely endorsed for re-election.

Democrat & Chronicle

"Ryan is above all loyal to the City of Rochester. His great virtue is that he cares deeply about the city. He's the kind of leader Rochester needs in hard times."

Times-Union

"Ryan has kept his eye on big issues facing the city: Business and jobs, financial management, preserving the neighborhoods. He certainly deserves another four years."

Comments on Ryan Administration from the Times-Union.

"On the plus side, voters should weigh these accomplishments:"

Financial Responsibility:

"The city is reducing its debt; planning for the future. It has cut its work force by 20 percent in six years."

Business and Jobs:

"An aggressive approach by the community development department has encouraged businesses such as WHEC Television, R.F. Communications, Coca-Cola, and Sybron to expand in the city rather than look to the Sunbelt or suburbs."

Downtown Development:

"The new cultural district seems about to become reality. Strong Museum is being built and land is being cleared for the YMCA. The city has taken the first steps toward a Main Street mall. A new convention center, hotel, and office buildings seem real possibilities."

Neighborhood Renewal:

"The city has expanded its Home Improvement Loan Program (HILP) and urban homesteading programs. It has launched extensive sidewalk, curb and street reconstruction. It has given a real voice to neighborhoods in allocating federal community development funds."

East District's Spokesman at City Hall. Rochester's Voice to State and Nation.

Re-Elect Tom Ryan

City Council • East District Democrat

Paid for by Committee to Re-Elect Tom Ryan.

ECKERT and EXPERIENCE:

Let Them BOTH Work For You.

Arnold J. Eckert has been our representative in the county legislature for the past year.

Eckert has given three decades of service with a leading financial institution, and has been extensively involved in a number of technical and managerial functions including taxation, development of retirement plans, and estate and trust administration.

The same qualities of business leadership that have served to strengthen Arnold J. Eckert's career in the private sector are now being put to use as he works to strengthen your voice as County Legislator.

"Effective government, just as any business or industry, demands conscientious management. It's up to the County Legislature to provide that management. As your legislator, I will continue to represent your views and give you the strong voice you deserve."

— Arnold J. Eckert

Keep

ARNOLD J. ECKERT working for you in the County Legislature

Vote Republican/Conservative Lever 4B or 4C

The Rochester Democrat & Chronicle and Times Union, along with the Rochester area Chamber of Commerce have all strongly endorsed the election of Arnold J. Eckert.
