

Community Centers To Be Discussed

Correction

The Community Chest and city-sponsored multipurpose center technical advisory committee has announced a series of November meetings on the committee's proposals for the development of such centers.

change in the way human services are delivered in Rochester.

The committee has proposed that the centers be established in areas which have been lacking in the delivery of human services.

The committee plan calls for each center to be developed and governed locally, using existing agencies as much as possible.

The meetings to discuss the proposal:

7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 13, Lake Avenue Baptist Church Hall, 57 Ambrose St.

7:30 p.m., Monday, Nov. 19, Corpus Christi Church Hall, 864 E. Main St.

7:30 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 15, Aeon Baptist Church Hall, 175 Genesee St.

7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 20, Holy Redeemer School Hall, 634 Hudson Ave.

The Camp Stella Maris benefit dinner-dance takes place Friday, Nov. 2, at Burgundy Basin Inn, Marsh Road. Festivities begin at 6:30 p.m. Reservations may be made through the camp office, 716-346-2243. The price is $25 per person, to pay for repairs and capital improvements at the Conesus Lake camp.

The meetings were scheduled after residents and agencies affected by the committee's draft report asked further discussion.

Janis Dowd, chairperson for the committee, said the centers could make a major the thousands of secretarial, clerical, retail, managerial and other workers in downtown Rochester."

"For the City of Rochester," he said, "it will also mean preservation of the historic church tower facade of St. Joseph's Church."

Father Power also revealed that "the downtown spiritual ministry traditionally associated with the Redemptorist Fathers, presently will continue at the Pleasant Street site of Our Lady of Victory Church. This church was made available to the Redemptorists by the Diocese of Rochester after the tragic fire which completely destroyed St. Joseph's Church and rectory."
