

The Neediest Cases

17 Mr. and Mrs. B live in a rural area with their four children. He is employed but makes the minimum wage. They have very few friends and frequently need help in paying utility bills and purchasing food.

18 C is the mother of three pre-school children. Medical bills for the children have severely strained the family's budget.

19 M is nine years a widower and eight years a paraplegic. His four children have caused him nothing but heartache. He is depressed, lonely, and in need of human contact.

20 The Ks are elderly and in poor health. Paying bills and meeting their everyday living expenses has become increasingly difficult because their are on a fixed income. It has happened with the rising cost of heating fuel, the Ks are without enough money to buy food.

21 O has four children, all younger than teenagers. She has been struggling, on public assistance, to feed and clothe them. Her possessions include two broken couches, and two mattresses. She possesses neither sheets nor a kitchen table.

22 F and her daughter who is mentally disabled are doubly handicapped by medical problems and the language barrier. F is constantly in need of advocacy assistance from caseworkers. The two subsist solely on Social Security and SSL.

23 A lives alone in a small apartment. He is nearly 80. His fixed income provides for only the bare necessities. He has outlived his family and serious physical problems have limited his ability to go outside his dwelling.

24 Mrs. F and her four children have numerous problems not the least of which is that two of the children are retarded and require specialized care. F has great difficulty stretching her budget of public assistance to adequately feed and cloth her children.

25 A lives in the inner city. She has a very low-paying job. She has three children of her own and two additional children.
