

CAMBODIAN RELIEF FUND

New Logo

This logo will be appearing all across the diocese in the next few weeks, on stationary, on posters, and as "sigs," or identifying marks in the Courier-Journal. The logo identifies the diocesan Cambodian Relief Fund and was created by Mike Lynch. In this week's Courier-Journal, Lynch's brother-in-law, Jerome Vaiana, presents a number of extraordinary photographs of life in refugee camps in Thailand, depicting not only the toll of war on the Cambodian peoples, but also the work being done there by Catholic Relief Services.

Lessons Learned. 14

Sister Mary Grant has learned to live daily with fear, hurt and death. Sister Mary is a Dublin-born member of the Little Sisters of Assumption, a group of religious women in the professions, who toil in Belfast, Northern Ireland. Sister Mary was interviewed recently by Religion Today's Jan Fisher. She reveals that another lesson she has learned is that "I won't always be liked for what I stand for."

Omen Appears 7

One of the most ominous signs of inflation recognized by the construction industry is the stagnating pace of church construction. A trade publication has said the market is faced with an "increasingly hostile environment" especially in the area of religious, educational and health facility construction. But Religion Today's Beth Spring has sampled attitudes in the major denominations and has found "remarkably little pessimism" over the economic picture, "despite growing concern over the need to retrench with plans for building."

Three for One. 15

The Tri-Parish Youth Board in Elmira has hired a youth minister to reach high school students of St. Casimir's, St. Anthony's and St. Patrick's parishes. Chris DeSocio is planning a cooperative effort featuring religious programming, but which also will include social gatherings, trips and community service work.

Parishes Busy 8

Several parishes have slated Lenten programs in the coming weeks. Guest speakers will lead discussions and give talks on subjects ranging from evangelism to divorce and separation. This also is the season for school registrations for next September. Announcements of these and other events are included in this week's At Your Parish.

Forum Guest 19

Lady Mary Ward opines in this week's Forum that clergymen should stress that love is a great deal more than sex. Lady Mary, the author of a book on the history of hospitals, is the widow of Cmdr. Sir Melvill Ward, DSCRN. She has recently moved from London to Washington, D.C. and is currently on a tour of the United States.

aren't registered, she said, there could be "a lot of anger and resentment" among the men.

Congress, which must approve funding for a registration program, is thought generally to oppose the inclusion of women.

Priest

CCD director, from 1929 until 1945, when he became pastor of St. Augustine's.

In 1936-37, Msgr. Duffy toured mission lands, visiting the Philippine Islands, China, Korea, Japan and India, in the company of the late Father Leo C. Mooney, then diocesan director of the Propagation of the Faith society. Msgr. John F. Duffy, his nephew, recalled also that the two priests met Pope Pius XI in Rome. In 1948, on the 25th anniversary of his ordination, Father Duffy was given the rank of Domestic Prelate by Pope Pius XII.

Msgr. Duffy was a member of the Priests' Council for two terms, served as secretary of the Diocesan Building Commission, as Vicar for Religious and as treasurer of the Clergy Relief Society.

His relatives include two sisters, Mrs. Helen Leslie and Miss Lulu F. Duffy, both of Syracuse. Besides the priest nephew, who is pastor of St. Francis, Phelps, there is another nephew, James G. Duffy of Eden; also, one niece, Mrs. Margaret M. Brady of Clarks Summit, Pa.
