All in the Family

On March 7 Nazareth Academy had a We Are Family Day (WAF). In top photo, Sister Carol Cimino explains to ski enthusiasts, Patti Brunett, Jennifer Borkowski, and Pam Callame, the workings of boots and bindings in alpine skiing. Two professional clowns, Nutsy and Dilly, were imported to conduct an art of clowning seminar. Insert picture is of junior Marybeth Brady. In room 103, Janice Heard and Pamela Reeves pick up the beat in a dance workshop.

Fisher Women's Team To Lose Powerhouses

Putting the finishing touches on impressive collegiate careers are two experienced and talented St. John Fisher College women basketball players who, for the past four years, have been the catalysts in coach Phil Kahler's winning formula that has produced a 104-16 record in that span.

As freshmen, Kathy Frosolone and Sheila Haley led Fisher to its second Private College Athletic Conference Championship and ended the season by winning the New York State AIAW Tournament. This season, the Lady Cardinals have brought home the championship trophy in the RAC Tournament, captured a fifth straight PCAC title, placed second in the state tournament, and are the 1980 Eastern AIAW Regional Champions. And in this, Frosolone and Haley's final season, the team made its debut in AIAW national competition, advancing to the second round before losing to Lenoir-Rhyne College, 79-65.

"Kathy and Sheila are two of the reasons for the team's achievements," Coach Kahler said. "In the past four years, they have contributed tremendously to the team's success."

Kathy, from Elmira, is Fisher's second-highest all-time scorer with 889 points. The 5-6 point guard returned to action this year after being sidelined for most of last season with torn ligaments and cartilage in her left knee. She averaged over eight points per game and was second on the team in assists, averaging four a game. In 1978, she was named to the All-State Team and was a PCAC All-Conference selection. This past year, Frosolone was selected to the All-Tournament team in the Pennsylvania Invitational, and was the runner-up for the Rochester Press-Radio Club's Sarah Coventry Sports Woman of the Year award.

"She's been the quarterback of our team for three years," Kahler said, "and when the going got tough, the players looked to her."

Haley's contributions are equally impressive. The 5-11 center is a native of Lockport and is considered Fisher's

"power rebounder." Haley finished the season as the team's second-highest rebounder, averaging over seven a game despite spending almost a month on the injured list with torn cartilage in the left knee. Also an offensive threat, Haley is the school's third highest all-time scorer with 773 points. In 1978, she was chosen to the RAC All-Tournament team.

"Sheila is our enforcer," Kahler said. "Her aggressiveness is what has made her such a fine player. She's not afraid to stick her nose in there and get that rebound."

Since the two co-captains came to Fisher in 1977, the Lady Cardinals have won 87 per cent of their games (104-16), helping to make Fisher a true powerhouse in eastern basketball.

"The records these two women leave behind will be difficult to match," Kahler adds. "Without their contributions, the program just wouldn't be what it is today."

Sports Who's Who

GIRLS' BASKETBALL
Eighth-seeded Bishop Kearney (10-4) defeated ninth-seeded Penfield, 44-43, in first round action in the sectional playoffs. Mary Joy DeConte led the Kings with 14 points.

Cardinal Mooney built up a 22-8 lead after the first quarter and coasted to a 48-36 first round win over Brighton. Mary Ellen Heindl led all scorers with 18 points and teammate Maureen Kretschmer added nine.

Mercy couldn't recover from Irondequoit's half-court trap press and a 21-5 halftime deficit, and lost to the Indians, 43-18. Gail Bileschi led Mercy with six points.

McQuaid and Irondequoit advanced to the finals of the Monroe County High School Hockey League playoffs last week. McQuaid (20-1), seeded second, defeated sixth-seeded Pittsford Sutherland (12-9), 4-1, as Mark Howard, Tom Frisina, Mike Post and Chip Kitchen scored for the Knights. Goaltender Jim Herzog received a rare assist on McQuaid's first goal. Top-seeded Irondequoit (18-4) downed fourth-seeded Aquinas (14-5-2) by an identical 4-1 score to set up the dramatic rematch with McQuaid. The last time the two teams met, the Indians stunned the then-unbeaten Knights, 6-5 in overtime, to clinch the state tournament to represent Section 5.

In quarterfinal hockey action, Mike Post's two goals helped rally McQuaid from a 2-0 deficit and defeat Brighton, 5-3. Mike Nuccitelli's empty-net goal gave Aquinas a 3-2 victory over Pittsford Mendon.

Senior welterweight Jim DiStefano was the outstanding fighter of the night and senior Mark Lowenguth became one of only a handful of boxers to finish his career unbeaten at the 48th annual Aquinas Championship bouts two weeks ago. Tom Lowenguth, Mark's brother, was voted freshman fighter of the night and Kevin Wade decided

Bill Leonardo in the "Fight of the Night."

Members of the Private-Parochial Girls Volleyball League all-star team as selected by league coaches are: Becky Kalkenbach, Lisa Brown, Claire McKay and Elizabeth Mack from Mercy; Betsy Hart, Ann Keenan, Monica Zorsch and Bonnie Brennan from Cardinal Mooney; Lisa Scott and Cassandra Jackson from Harley-Allendale-Columbia; Anne Darby and Bev Ziegler from St. Agnes; Antimiana Zmuidzinas and Susan Hoffman from Bishop Kearney; Ann DiFabio and Sabrina Patterson from Nazareth Academy.

GRAD-NOTE — Tony Ricci (ex-Aquinas) became only the fourth boxer in Notre Dame history to win four titles at the 50th annual Bengal Bouts last week in South Bend, Ind. Ricci, a senior, won his 147-pound title bout by a decision and also became the second boxer in Irish history to finish unbeaten in the Bengal Bouts competition.

Bishop Fields Issues and Answers

Bishop Matthew Clark visited with the students at Nazareth Academy, March 5, for one of his rap sessions with diocesan youth. In a press conference format, he heard and responded to a wide range of concerns expressed by the students.

According to Nazareth sources, a prime concern was the role of women in the Church, especially the question of ordination. Bishop Clark's response was firm: "That's not a possibility for us." He allowed himself "no private words" in the matter, seeing it as essential to his role as bishop that that is "the way I must answer."

Other issues that surfaced were ERA, the draft, the hostages in Iran, and taxes on Church property.

The Bishop challenged the students, pushing them for facts and knowledge of the church documents that would be ideal for a continuing fruitful discussion of the complex issues which the students raised. He also gave them a command to seek their own answers to many of these questions when he said, "You are Church... knock on the doors of your parish rectory, write to the Pope if you want to make your thoughts and impressions heard by those who have been ordained to lead and serve you."
