What makes freshmen nervous about starting high school?

BISHOP KEARNEY

JIM CRISAFULLI
Freshman
St. Thomas Apostle

"Not knowing where everything is, the new teachers, and the big crowd. I wasn't nervous but the school seemed so big. I want to get good grades and look forward to getting involved in things."

KEVIN MOORE
Freshman
St. Stanislaus

"The sophomores and it's the first year and we don't know many kids. I've been nervous during the summer about starting and the size of the school really impressed me. I hope to get involved in the various sport activities."

ELLEN GARDNER
Freshman
Holy Trinity

"Well, coming into a big school with different people that they don't know. I think it's a big step — you go from a secluded little place to a huge place where you don't know where you are. I've been looking forward to going to high school for a long time. I want to get good grades and meet people."

BECKY WILLIAMS
Freshman
Newman Community Center

"The teachers asked that question and most of the girls answered that they were afraid of getting lost and not meeting and making new friends. I've been nervous about making friends. I look forward to playing on the softball team. I hear the school has a good one."

MIKE PISAREK
Freshman
St. Margaret Mary

"The numbers of students and the upperclassmen. The bigness of the school and meeting new people make you nervous. I've joined the band and I'm going to try out for lacrosse."

MIKE HORN
Freshman
St. Thomas More

"Coming into the school and not knowing where to go or much about the workings of the school. I kept wondering where my homeroom was going to be. I want to achieve good grades and play sports, especially football and lacrosse."

SHEILA COLOMBO
Freshman
St. Joseph's

"Meeting new people. They're apprehensive about making new friends right off the bat. I'm amazed at the number of students and I liked the teachers, they're all nice. I want to get into the honors program. I've been looking forward to starting high school for a long time."

MARGARET GLENDE
Freshman
Guardian Angels

"Getting adjusted to the teachers and making friends and getting lost. I prepared myself for high school by just talking about it and asking a lot of questions. I'm not sure of just what I want to get involved in at the moment."

Projects Organized Under Mercy Leadership

Student leaders from Our Lady of Mercy High School have been busy this summer making their plans for the school year. Moira Mahoney, president of the Student Government Association (SGA) has coordinated that organization's yearly activities with Connie Lartigue, vice president/treasurer, and Tiffany Piekunka, secretary. First on the SGA agenda is Field Day followed by a Fall dance, movie nights and the Spring Arts Festival.

were Maureen Dooher, class president Sandy Rakiewicz, vice president, Katie Lartigue, treasurer/secretary. Mrs. Shirley Bezek is class moderator.

An Active Learning Summer

Cardinal Mooney students did more than vacation these last few months. They participated in learning experiences throughout the summer.

Kevin Gerhard, president of the Student Council, attended Boys State in Albany in June. Martha Miller was on hand for Girls State, and the yearbook (Apogee) co-editors.

Paul Scheib and Marisa Caricchio, along with photographer Peter Geiss, attended Varden's Yearbook Workshop, Aug. 5-8 at the University of Rochester.

Winners Circle

RapAround weekly will run a photo of a group of students taken somewhere in the diocese. One person will be circled and if that person brings the clipping to the Courier-Journal before noon of the Tuesday following our publication date, he or she will receive $5. This week's photo was taken at Mercy during freshmen orientation. The person circled should bring the clipping to Joan M. Smith, Courier-Journal, by noon, Tuesday, Sept. 16 to receive $5.

Plans For the Year

The 1980-81 school year begins and the incoming freshman at St. Agnes get a look at the school event calendar. Seated from left are: Michaela Keller, Cheryl Diliberto, Tamara Morano, Sister Christine Marie Angione, freshman class moderator. Standing are, Betsy Murty, Suzanne Masco, Carolyn Nadal, and Monica Foerg.

Forensic Meeting In Albany

This weekend Sister Evelyn Marie Carlin, SSND, will attend a conference of Board of Directors of the New York State Forensic League in Albany. Goals of the meeting will be to discuss problems and ideas, and to formulate the 1980-81 competition schedule.

Sister Carlin, who was elected to represent the Genesee District at the Albany conference, has been moderator of the Bishop Kearney Forensic Team for 10 years. The team numbers 20 members and is always recruiting. "We never refuse anyone," noted Sister.

Visitor

During the summer, Francoise Huille, an exchange student from Villaneuve D'Ascq, France, came back to her Alma Mater to visit with her classmate of 1961, Sister Marie Christine who is now guidance director.
