

Laughing Assembly

Photos by Terrance J. Brennan

Some 400 people, junior high and high school students in Brockport and their parents, were in attendance last Tuesday evening for a question and answer forum held in the auditorium of Brockport High School that featured Bishop Matthew H. Clark. Left, Father John Philipps, pastor of the Church of the Nativity of the Blessed Virgin Mary in Brockport; jokes with the crowd as Bishop Clark, above, awaits introduction while sitting amongst the laughing assembly.

Catholic Women Set Fall Events

The Catholic Women's Club of Rochester will stage its annual Fashion Gala at Sibley's Tower Restaurant.

Talk to Focus On Dying

"Dying Well: Fact or Fiction" is the title of a talk to be given by Mrs. A.J. Levinson, executive director of Concern for Dying at 8 p.m., Monday, Nov. 10, in Basil Hall Auditorium, St. John Fisher College.

The meeting will mark the 10th anniversary of the Rochester Chapter of Concern for Dying.

The talk is co-sponsored by the St. John Fisher Resource Center for Death Education.

Thursday, Nov. 6 at 9:15 a.m. The event will benefit both the club and the Carmelite Monastery on Jefferson Road. Coffee and Danish will be served following the fashion show. Tickets are available by calling the club house office, (716) 275-9173, between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Several days later, on Nov. 15, the club will sponsor an all-day bus trip to Charles Town, a factory outlet store in Utica, N.Y. Club spokesperson, Rita M. Kramer, described the outing as "an ideal time to do your Christmas shopping for clothing, arts and crafts."

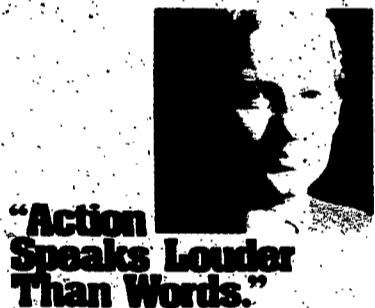

After shopping, tour members will dine at Trinkas Manor in Oriskany. Reservations, limited to the first 92, are made by calling Mrs. Katherine Tyrrell, chairman of the event, (716) 334-2596, after 6 p.m. The club office may also be called as above. Deadline for reservations is Nov. 1.

Business in Diocese

DESSAUER

John P. Dessauer formerly of St. Louis Parish in Pittsford, last week launched the publication of "Dessauer's Journal of International Markets," a financial newsletter. Dessauer, son of former Xerox vice chairman John H. Dessauer, is a graduate of LeMoyne College in Syracuse and Cornell University Law School.

When You Vote on Nov. 4, Consider The Perry Record

The grandson of Italian immigrants, Jack Perry was born in Rochester. He grew up in the 19th Ward and attended Our Lady of Good Counsel. A graduate of West High School and Syracuse University, Jack and his wife, Chris, raised their three children in Rochester. The Perrys have two sons -- Matthew and Martin -- and a daughter, Alice.

A former teacher, Jack entered politics because he felt that as a family person he could represent the needs of the families of his area. So he ran for, and won, a county legislature seat in 1971, rising to Democratic minority leader before running for the state senate in 1974.

Jack Perry's record in the state senate reflects his concern for the families and neighborhoods of the 53rd district. For example, he has worked hard to get a fair share of state aid for the Rochester area, and has fought for the rights of consumers and the needs of all people.
