King Memorial: 'Keeping the Dream Alive'

Dream Alive" was the theme and the purpose of the prayer service commemorating the birthday of the late Dr. Martin Euther King, Jr., at Ss. Peter and Paul Church Jan.

Four choirs and 175 persons observed what would have been the civil rights leader's 52nd birthday.

Featured speaker Rev. James R. Josey, pastor of the Frederick Douglass Memorial AME Zion Church, stated that the group "assembled here in the memory of a great American," who dedicated his life to the poor and oppressed.

"One of the most brillant stigma to be on welfare;"

young men of our time," Josey said, King "came to believe that the Gospel at its. best must deal with the whole

And with the recent setbacks of racial violence and activities by the Ku Klux Klan and the American Nazi Party, people have to work to "keep the dream alive."

He emphasized the need for blacks to develop self-respect, and the respect of the society. He scorned the repeated studies of poor persons, saving that they reduce the poor to "things to be studied;" instead of "people whose opinions

He also stated that it is "no

Chrysler is on welfare." But, he said, just because people are on welfare, they 'don't have to stay there.' Everyone must work to keep the dream alive, he said, and work toward the day when "brotherhood will be more than a word on the end of a prayer.

Host pastor Father Richard O'Connell was master of ceremonies for the program, which was sponsored by the Alliance of Inter-denominational Ministers. Choirs from Ss. Peter and Paul, All Saints Home Church, and two choirs from the Monumental Baptist Church offered selections and led the singing.

school's strengths and making recommendations for improvement

As a follow-up to the study, a group of 13 educators, with Rev. George Brembos, chairman, visited the school last October for three days. The educators, from New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, reviewed the self-study and made commendations and recommendations.

. The committee recognized that "the academic program corresponds to the needs and expectations of most of the student body. The school has witnessed many changes in society and in education in its years of service to the community. The school is aware that change will continue in the years to

The committee said that "the school should be involved in long-range planning, especially with reference to student enrollment, curriculum, staffing and finance. The administration, Board of Trustees, and Board of Governors should take advantage of the resources and resource persons to aid in this planning.

"The administration and staff are not only understanding of the needs of their community but also dedicated in their efforts to fulfill these needs. The friendly manner and unstrained discipline of the students are indications of their desire for learning in a conducive atmosphere. The support of the parents.

Bishop Yaekel speaks to the 900 who filled St. Mary Our Mother Church, Horseheads, for a prayer service observing the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity.

Methodist Bishop Yaekel Addresses Unity Service

Horseheads — Bishop Joseph H. Yaekel told of his "certain sense of awe" at being the speaker in a Roman Catholic Church and of his effort to un learn some lessons of his youth at the prayer service marking the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity at St. Mary Our Mother Church

Bishop Yaekel is a bishop in the United Methodist Church and presiding elder of the New York West Area.

As a youngster, Bishop Yaekel said, he spent a great deal of time with his grandmother, who imparted to him her definitions of sin, which included going to movies, playing cards, and throwing stones into a stream. She also "taught me all about certain Protestant Churches and EVERYTHING (his emphasis) about the Catholic Church.

As a result, Bishop Yeakel said, he has been working ever since to un-learn those lessons, adding that he considered it the speaker for the event.

He expressed gratitude to who started the ecumencial movement, noting the Graymoor Ecumenical Institute's work, and the important advances made by the Second Vatican Council. He noted that since Vatican II, some of the doors have been closed, but that progress in the ecumenical movement is still possible.

The theme for the service was taken from Paul's letters to the Corinthians, where he instructs the Christians of Corinth on the "variety of gifts" which they possess.

Bishop Yaekel described Paul's relationship to the Christians at Corinth, noting that the letters were written as the result of a great controversy within the Church there. When at first Paul went to Corinth to try to mediate the crisis, he was thrown out, Bishop Yaekel said.

He then sent the letter on the variety of gifts to them. and started a slower journey once again to his troubled an honor and a privilege to be flock. During the trip he received word that the situation had been resolved, and this time he would be welcomed with a spirit of reconciliation.

> While persons possess various gifts, so do denominations, Bishop Yaekel said, and as Paul told the Corinthians not to compete for honor or power, Churches also should avoid competition, which "has no place among the sisters and brothers in Christ.

Many local clergy joined the procession for the annual event, which has had increasing attendance for the past several years, with 900 persons joining in the prayer for Christian Unity this year. Participating were Father Bartholomew O'Brien, host pastor; Father Paul McCabe, Our Lady of Lourdes; Rev. R. Kurt Traugott, First United Church of Christ; Sister Joanne Cullen of Ss. Peter and. Paul Parish; and Mrs. Virginia Sale of Park Church.

The Cantata Singers, directed by William Payne. led the singing and performed special musical selections.
