

Geneva Right to Life Group Details Wide Activity Range

Geneva — Right-to-Life members here are getting ready for their annual fundraiser, a Mother's Day Flower Sale. According to Kathy Peter of Geneva Area Right to Life, the group raises about $1,000 in its once-a-year campaign.

Ms. Peter also detailed a broad range of activities in which the organization has been involved since the Summer of 1980.

Members have picketed Taylor-Brown Hospital for nearly a year and a half without once missing a week; have sponsored pro-life speakers in Waterloo High School health classes; maintain a booth at the Seneca County Fair; held a reception for Sen. Fred Warder for his pro-life efforts in Albany, and presented books to Geneva, Waterloo and Seneca Falls libraries in his honor; have mailed 1,300 letters against Planned Parenthood's inclusion in Seneca County's United Way.

In addition, she said, GARTL sponsored area addresses by Olga Fairfax, head of Methodists for Life; sponsored pro-life film showings; sponsored buses to the Washington, D.C., March for Life; and donated fetal development materials to Planned Parenthood in Geneva.

The group also has been picketing Geneva General Hospital since March 7, and sends out a monthly newsletter to more than 200 Right to Life supporters in the area.

Ms. Peter singled out Father Albert Shamon, pastor of St. Mary's in Waterloo, for praise for his support to the movement. "Not only did Father Shamon donate hundreds of his own personal dollars to help us," Ms. Peter said, "but he let us speak from the pulpit after Masses on abortion issues."

Father Michael Conboy, pastor of St. Patrick's in Seneca Falls, and Father Edwin Wedow, pastor of Holy Cross in Ovid, also came in for Ms. Peter's special mention.

Despite the presence of Catholic clergymen, however, the group is highly ecumenical. Ms. Peter cited Rev. Gail Von Wald from the Church of God for his active participation in demonstrations and help in pro-life projects.

And, "Rev. Al Hezlep from the Calvary Assembly of God Church in Waterloo has been terrific," she said. "He has let us use his church on numerous occasions — for baby-sitting, candlelight ceremonies, ecumenical prayer services." Rev. Hezlep also assists in the production of the monthly newsletter by providing free use of his church's duplicating machinery.
