What is it like being a teenager today?

OUR LADY OF MERCY

KAREN DONALTY
Senior

"I think it is a lot of fun but there is also a lot of pressure. We have to think about our future and have to worry about academics as well as finances. I think the teens of today have more potential and will be able to acquire careers. It doesn't bother me to be considered a teenager. I feel privileged to be one. I wouldn't want to be any other age."

LYNN O'HARA
Senior

"It's fun but there aren't many places for us to go. There is lots of pressure on teens. We have to think what we're going to do. My biggest worry is going to college, doing well, and adapting to it. My teenage years have gone by fast but my senior year has been slow."

STEPHANIE PAUTZ

"I think the teenage years are such a short time and there is so much to do. Your values have to be established and you have to think about your future. There is a lot of pressure from parents and teachers. It is difficult to find time to myself to think about things. I worry about college and decisions concerning it."

"I think it's a lot easier being a teenager today. You have more opportunity to enjoy yourself. We have the freedom. Parents realize that times have changed and are more lenient. Since women are getting into more things there are more opportunities for us than before."

JUDY SMITH
Senior
Christian Action Movement

"I think it is a lot of fun. There's more opportunity to enjoy myself but also there is a lot more responsibility because of emphasis on college. You have to get the resources to go through college and so you have to get a part time job. There are anxieties from being in an adult world. We follow the latest fads like wearing leg warmers, head bands and going to the same places."

CONNIE LARTIGUE
Senior
class secretary

"I think it's difficult because you have a lot of pressure from others your age to be in a certain clique, but being a teenager does have its good points. You have experiences and circumstances which help you learn. You also learn to express yourself better. I've wished them to be over because I want to get out into the adult world."

CHRIS MCCARTHY

"It has good points and bad points. A good point is that during these years you learn a lot about your peers and from them. A bad point is that you have to try to be accepted. There are teens who try hard for acceptance and never achieve it. Sometimes you feel the pressure from school and parents. And there are pressures of work. But there are a lot of good times. Sometimes I wish the teen years were over, but on the whole, I find they are good years."

LORETTA KONECNY
Senior
Christian Action Movement

"We have to learn to budget our time like adults. There is more emphasis put on academics and getting into a good college. Being a teenager means having more pressures on you today than say 10 years ago."
