

RAP AROUND

Equal Time

Do you think teenagers rely on prayer and know the value of it?

ST. AGNES

NANCY LAMBERT
Freshman

"Not too many do because they weren't brought up in the same atmosphere their parents were brought up in. And the way the world is today they are not brought up with the same values. They are not aware of what prayer can do. The ones that do pray don't like to show it in front of their friends because they want to keep an image to be accepted."

TRACY ALLEN
Sophomore

"I don't think so. I think it's because of the type of music today and that nothing in their social life tends toward church. They are not aware of the value of prayer because it is never mentioned on TV or the newspaper about the value of being a Christian. They are not aware of it because there is nothing in society that tells them prayer is a good thing."

JEANNINE DELVECCHIO
WTNT

"I think everyone relies on prayer in certain circumstances, whether they want to admit it or not. In going to a Catholic high school, you are able to be more open about praying. I think teenagers are aware of the value of prayer. Prayer is just talking to God on your own."

LORI VERNILLE
Freshman

"I think some do and some don't. Depends on how you have been brought up. Some kids are afraid to let people know they pray because they are afraid they'll be laughed at. The reason people don't pray is either that they don't take the time or they are not aware of prayer's value."

MICKIE KELLER
Sophomore

"No, because society teaches that they should rely on money. They are brought up with the fact that money can do everything, and it's when you really want something that you pray to God. God and prayer aren't stressed that much in today's society."

ERIN MULHERIN
Junior

"Yes. A lot of them rely on prayers. They know the value of prayer but they don't show it. It depends on the individual. A lot of them don't openly show that they depend on God — maybe they are embarrassed."

THERESA RYAN
Junior

"No. I don't see them praying. I really don't think they do. They are too busy to think about praying."

JENNIFER MACKEY
Junior
Honor Society

"I think some do and some don't. I feel the ones who do aren't afraid of what other people will say. They aren't aware of the value of prayer."

Art Inspired Talent Creates Entertainment

On Friday evening, March 12, the Music and Art Departments of Cardinal Mooney High School presented a Festival of Fine Arts for the parents and friends of the school. The band and chorus, under the direction of Sister Marian Dimino, SSJ, were on hand to entertain with such selections as "God Bless America," "The Old Hundredth Psalm Tune," and "The Rainbow Connection."

Chris Breen, Debbie Burgmaster, Kirsten Campo, David Ceradini, Mary De Marie, Sue DeSilva, Karen DiLaura, Judy Dutille, Paula Frasco, Paula Frumusa, Peter Geiss, Kollene Holula, Coleen Koster, Tracey Lippa, Kathy Lum, Mary Lou Mazzeo, Scott Meisenzahl, Rob Menna, Tim Pelcher, Fred Piano, Aimee Quattrociocchi, Lynett Scrooby, Derek Schaffner, Bryan Scheible, Mike Straub, Bob Strum, Kathy Potter, a 1982 recipient of the Howard Hanson Award, performed a piano solo of the "Firefly." Bernadette Siena and Julie Boufford were accompanists. It was the final concert for seniors: Lisa Buda, Linda D'Ambrosio, Kevin Halligan, Karen Hartman, Robert Kaimer, Kathy Potter, Maryann Quinn, Stacey Reed, Julie Sarkis, Janet Smith and John Zorsch.

Design Scholarship Is Offered

The Upstate Chapter of the Interior Design Society will award its second annual scholarship during Design Sources '82, Saturday and Sunday, April 24-25. High school seniors interested in pursuing careers in interior design at an accredited institution may apply by submitting an essay on why he/she wishes to enter the design field; two teacher recommendations; and a design project. Deadline for entries is April 1, and should be sent to Miss Nancy Mitrano, IDS, Baylis Furniture, 1880 East Ave., Rochester, 14610.

Design Sources '82, which benefits the scholarship fund, is a display by fine artists and craftsmen of works utilized by area designers. This year's exhibit will be held in the Wilson Gallery of Harley School, Clover Road. Last year's winner was Kelly MacAvoy of Our Lady of Mercy.

Guests also had the opportunity to view the art work of Sue Andolino, Beth Bauer.

Winner's Circle

RapAround weekly will run a photo of a group of students taken somewhere in the diocese. One person will be circled and if that person brings the clipping to the Courier-Journal before noon of the Tuesday following our publication date, he or she will receive $5. This week's photo was taken at St. Agnes during assembly. The person circled should bring the clipping to Joan M. Smith, Courier-Journal, 114 South Union St., by noon, Tuesday, March 30, to receive $5.

Potter and Campo Cited For Artistic Achievements

Katherine Potter, a senior at Cardinal Mooney High School, received the Howard Hanson Certificate of Merit at auditions held at Nazareth College Arts Center in January. Kathy is one of nine area students whose pianistic abilities met the requirements of the Rochester Chapter of the National Guild of Piano Teachers, which sponsored the event.

On March 14, Kathy joined the other award recipients in a recital at the Arts Center. She played "Firefly" by Bilotti, "Invention No. 4" by Bach, and "Waltz Opus 69 No. 1" by Chopin.

Kathy is an honor student at Mooney, a member of the National Honor Society, sings in the school chorus and has appeared in school musicals. Although she has not made her final decisions, she plans to attend college in the Fall to study computer science.

Kathy has taken piano lessons from Mrs. Mary Ann Bruce for the past four years. Her music supervisor at Mooney is Sister Marian Dimino, chairperson of the Music Department.

Kristen Campo, a sophomore, received a special award from the New York State Department of Education. It was a direct acceptance into the School of Visual Arts of the New York State Summer School of Arts.

This recognition is the result of her entry in the recent Scholastic Art Exhibit at Sibley's where her pencil drawing "Carousel Horse" received honorable mention.

The award from the state allows Kristen to be accepted into the summer art program directly, without following the usual procedure of submitting a portfolio.

Kristen is an honor student, has been involved in school musicals and service projects, and performed with her brother Stephen, a senior at Mooney, in the March 18th musical portion of the Entity

Fashion Show.

Kristen's art teacher is Mrs. Debbie Levy, and her drawings, along with the entries of other Mooney students in the Sibley's exhibit, are currently displayed in the foyer at the high school.
