

New Staffers Fill Diocesan Positions

Five diocesan education posts were filled during the summer. Patrick Fox was hired as director of Youth Ministry, a new office. Sister Virginia Steinwachs, SSJ, was named assistant superintendent for program development and public relations. Sister Anne Guerin, SSJ, was named assistant superintendent for development planning for elementary schools and consultant for secondary schools. Mrs. Maribeth Mancini was named consultant for adult religious education, and Robert Gefell was named assistant superintendent for personnel.

Fox holds a BS in Theology from Iona College. He taught science and theology at Bishop Kearney High School, was director of religious education at Christ the King, and served eight years as director of religious education and youth ministry at St.

Louis in Pittsford. In addition, he is a teacher in the diocesan CERT program, and an instructor in Nazareth College's continuing education program.

Sister Virginia did undergraduate work at Nazareth College, and graduate work at Geneseo State College and Syracuse University. She has just finished a sabbatical year of theology and scripture studies at Regis Jesuit College in Toronto. She has been a teacher in diocesan schools for several years, the last dozen of which she served as principal, first at Holy Rosary and then at Mother of Sorrows.

Sister Anne holds a masters degree from the University of Notre Dame and has recently attended workshops on planning and development. She has served as secondary school and college teacher for 13 years, as a curriculum resource coordinator for three years, and as principal of a high school for seven years.

Mrs. Mancini holds an MA in Theology from St. Bernard's Institute and a BA in English from Nazareth College. Widely known for her volunteer activities, Mrs. Mancini has also served as catechist at St. Ambrose Parish, as student manager of St. Bernard's Seminary bookstore, and as student liaison for St. Bernard's Institute.

Gefell holds a BA from St. Bernard's and an MS in Administration from SUC Brockport. In addition he has done graduate work at Syracuse University, the University of Hartford, the University of Rochester, Penn. State and Temple. He has taught elementary and junior high school in East Irondequoit, at the New York Military Academy, adult education in East Irondequoit; and has served in a number of administrative positions.

PATRICK FOX

among them: supervisor of student teachers at SUC Brockport, ESEA Regional Title II Grant, service planning director at the University of Rochester; curriculum coordinator, East Irondequoit; director of pupil services, East Irondequoit; and consultant for learning disabilities program, Spencerport.

BISHOP KEARNEY HIGH SCHOOL

125 Kings Highway
Rochester, New York 14617
a good place to learn

Bishop Kearney is a co-institutional Catholic High School staffed by dedicated Christian Brothers, School Sisters of Notre Dame, priests and lay persons offering quality Catholic education to the people of Rochester.

Academics: The Bishop Kearney curriculum provides a rich and varied secondary education amply preparing students for continued study at the college level. Bishop Kearney graduation standards more than meet the admission requirements for all liberal arts colleges and, with appropriate electives, all engineering and technical institutions. In addition, complete Guidance and personnel services are especially designed to make the educational process a personal growth experience for each student.

Activities: As part of the over-all educational process, the student activity program forms an integral part of school life. Each student is strongly urged to participate and to develop his or her talents in some of the many activities sponsored by the school. The band, color guard, debate and oratory, spring musical, newspaper, ski club, and student government are a sampling. In addition to a complete physical educational program and strong intramural program, the school sponsors teams in all major sports.
