

New Chapel

Father Edward Steinkirchner, pastor of St. Michael's Church, Newark, stands in front of the new chapel constructed in the basement of the church in an effort to conserve energy and cut heating costs. Father Steinkirchner invited Rochester artist Carl Zollo to draw plans and design furnishings for the chapel. Zollo crafted the sanctuary lamp and holy water font in steel, and reworked statues of the Virgin Mary and St. Joseph, which were formerly in the convent chapel. The altar, tabernacle (left) and lectern were made of oak by parishioner James Klahn. Benches were built by Anthony DeMarco, Batik window coverings were made by Sister Kristin Malone, SSJ, and the candlesticks on the altar were carved by Dr. James Palmeri. The chapel, which seats 50 and is used for daily Mass, also features accessibility for the handicapped. Donations from parishioners helped pay for the addition which was inaugurated on Aug. 17.

A Great Beginning for New Fund Drive

Sister Elaine Englert, principal of Nazareth Academy, was recently presented with a $22,000 check, proceeds from the Gold and Blue Campaign — the first alumnae fund drive in the school's 111-year history — by the Alumnae Association.

Sister Elaine termed the drive a "tremendous success."

Sister Annunciata McCabe, a former principal at the school and honorary chairman of the drive, said, "We were thrilled at the generous response of our alumnae. It certainly shows that their school spirit is alive, no matter how long ago their graduation took place."

Donna Provenzano Warner, Alumnae Fund-raising chairperson, agreed. "We were really gratified," she said, "not only by the amount of contributions, but by the beautiful and touching letters that accompanied them."

According to Sister Elaine, the money is being used to match Diocesan Tuition Subsidy funds for needy students. "Our graduates," she explained, "through their generosity, are insuring future graduates. This idea of Nazareth people helping Nazareth people is the very key to our philosophy about a school community."

The Gold and Blue Campaign was started in March with a mailing to some 10,000 graduates, and is now a part of the annual activities of the Alumnae Association.
