Volunteer's Aim: To Bring Happiness

Susan Ritchlin's Saturdays are spent at the Hurlbut Nursing Home. She helps escort the elderly residents to the recreation room where she shows them movies and provides them with refreshments. She has shown them movies like "The Making of Disneyland" and "Winemaking," and "because," she said, "they like to see life back in the 1920s and 30s," Susan will also show them the old movies.

Susan is also a patient listener. "They like to talk," she said, and Susan will not only listen to what they have to say, but will join in discussions about what they watch on TV.

Susan is a senior at Aquinas Institute, and she is using her volunteer time at the home to fulfill her theology community service requirement. The toughest part of her work, she said, was seeing the sadness, seeing the people physically curtailed in doing what they want, and seeing how lonely they were.

"If they had someone," she said, "they wouldn't be there." This observation has made her decide to take each day as it comes and live it the best way that she can, "because," she explained, "when I get older I might not be able to function."

Her goal in helping the elderly is to make them happy and through her volunteer work, she said, "I've given them hope, I'm someone for them to see, and I've given them encouragement."

And talking about encouragement, Susan urges fellow teenagers who are thinking about volunteering "to go ahead and help people out," she said and added, "just think about the people sitting there with no one."

Susan is an art major at Aquinas, and between her class work and volunteering, she enjoys listening to music — everything from rock to classical.

Robot Pushes Magazines

Nazareth Academy kicked off its magazine drive Feb. 25. The drive's goal is $30,000 and will run through March 11. "We do have a specific goal," said Sister Elaine Englert, principal. "Besides keeping our tuition the lowest of the Catholic high schools," she explained, "we also plan to expand our parking facilities." Prize for the girl selling her quota of magazines will be "Magman" a motorized robot. Cash prizes are also offered. Customers may call the school at 458-8583 for information and subscription forms. Above, Mary Catherine Coogan and Heidi Attaldo team up with "Magman" for a successful magazine drive.

Winner's Circle

RapAround weekly will run a photo of a group of students taken somewhere in the diocese. One person will be circled and if that person brings the clipping to the Courier-Journal before noon of the Tuesday following our publication date, he or she will receive $5. This week's photo was taken at Bishop Kearney during class. The person circled should bring the clipping to Joan M. Smith, Courier-Journal, 114 South Union St., by noon, Tuesday, March 8, to receive $5.

Fama Will Attend JA

John Lawrence Fama, a graduate of McQuaid, has been selected by Junior Achievement to serve as graduate staff member at the national JA conference at Indiana University in August. The graduate staff provides guidance, supervision, and administrative support to Junior Achievers selected to attend the workshops.

Fama was sent to the 1982 conference as part of the recognition he was awarded as "President of the Year" in the Rochester area. He is currently a student at Marquette University.

Winner

Mary Beth Meisenzahl, a junior at Our Lady of Mercy, was the recipient of the Winner's Circle $5 for the week of Feb. 23.
