Ms. Clemente, a member of the advisory board for the North American Conference of Separated/Divorced Catholics, and a clinical member of the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapists, is perhaps best known for her radio call-in broadcasts.

Professional Nursing Is Seminar Topic

Hornell — Nursing instructors interested in the positive impact of joining nursing service and nursing education will hear Ingeborg G. Mauksch lecture on "Professional Cohesiveness: How Can Service and Education Unite," at a workshop April 8.

Mauksch, a lecturer, consultant and professor at the University of South Florida, will be the featured speaker at the event sponsored by the St. James Mercy Hospital School of Nursing. The program will begin at 8 a.m. at the Ponce DeLeon Restaurant.

The workshop will assist educators in both academic and service settings to understand the historical antecedents to today's split between nursing service and nursing education and to envisage models designed to remedy the situation.

Mauksch, who has bachelor's and master's degrees in nursing and a doctorate in education, has received many honors for her contributions to the field of nursing.

According to Fe Braga of the St. James School of Nursing, the workshop is the first in a series of programs planned for 1983. Nursing instructors interested in participating are invited to contact the school to register before March 31.
