Who will be the most outstanding woman of the 20th Century?

OUR LADY OF MERCY

EILEEN HETTERICH
Junior
SGA vice president

"Susan B. Anthony because she worked so hard for women's rights and was jailed for her views. She worked hard to get the voting rights for women. We wouldn't be where we are today without voting rights."

PATTY BUDD
Junior
Athletic Committee rep

"Queen Elizabeth II of England because she sticks to her values even when they conflict with her family's ideas. She was a strong leader in the Falklands crisis. People look up to her for her poise and graciousness and people put their trust in her as queen."

MARY JO KENNELLY

Margaret H. Sanger because she helped women realize that they were important, had rights and feelings and could be in control of their own destiny. She showed them they could exercise their freedom of choice."

GINA SERIO
Junior class president

"Sandra Day O'Connor because she paved the way for women to be on the Supreme Court. She set a precedent for other women in politics in the Supreme Court. The honor of a woman achieving this status in government shows others that it is possible and more probable than in other years."

CINDY TROIDLE
Junior

"Princess Diana because she has gotten so much publicity with the royal wedding and the birth of Prince William. She'll be remembered a long time. People are copying her hairstyle and her fashions. She's a good model of charm and graciousness for us to look up to."

COLLEEN DONNELLY
Junior

"Jackie Kennedy Onassis because she survived her husband's assassination. She knows how to cope in difficult situations. Her strength is something for us to follow."

MAUREEN MILLER
Junior
Mercy Athletic Committee

"Princess Grace of Monaco because of her stamina and determination in going from a movie actress to princess. She was noted for her attitude and help toward charity organizations. The way she projected a certain poise and regality and yet came across as a friendly person."

CHRISTINE BROWNE
Junior
McQuaid play

"Princess Grace of Monaco. She was the one person who fulfilled the American dream and set women's goals for today by becoming someone great from someone who wasn't of royalty. She set a precedent that no matter what you are, you can become somebody — that women can be better."

Friendly Time

Our Lady of Mercy class officers put their heads together and came up with a Friendship Week. The aim of the special five-day event was to generate a spirit of friendship throughout the school. Each day was dedicated to a different class with Friday set aside for a day of extracurricular activities in which students and faculty members participated. Teachers pitted themselves against the undefeated Mercy basketball team. Below, students in Mrs. Karen Gedge's Social Studies classes taste their endeavors in making the East Indian dish, dosas. BK Welcomes Visitors

In March, 700 seventh graders from 22 area junior high schools visited Bishop Kearney High School. Each day the junior high school students' visit began in the auditorium where they were greeted by Brother Joseph Clark, director of the Development Office, and by the Student Council officers.

They were introduced to their junior and senior guides who accompanied them, throughout their day's activities which included visits to ninth grade classes and to the science labs for special demonstrations.

A popular attraction this year, was Kearney's IWO computer labs where Kearney students were on hand to demonstrate the capabilities of the school's computer system.

Brother Brian Walsh, principal, along with Sister Evelyn Breslin and Brother John Brennan, vice principals, and Gerry Farrell, director of the Guidance Office, were on hand each day to meet with the visitors and answer their questions.
