

Three Named to Fill Education Positions

Three diocesan education posts have been filled for the coming year. Sister Ann Miller, RSM, has been appointed assistant superintendent of schools for elementary school administration and religious instruction; Deacon Kenneth A. Scarciotta has been named director of continuing education; and James G. McAuliffe Sr. will take over as assistant superintendent for public affairs in the Department of General Education.

Sister Ann has been principal of the Corning Catholic Schools for the past six years. She has also been principal of Annunciation and St. John the Evangelist Schools in Rochester. Previous to that, she was visiting supervisor of schools for her religious congregation.

Sister Ann holds a BA from Nazareth College and masters degrees from Catholic University in Washington, D.C., and Seattle University.

Deacon Scarciotta holds a BA from St. Bonaventure University, a MA in Educa-

Diocesan Pastoral Council, the Liturgy Commission and the Permanent Deacon Advisory Board.

His background in public school administration began in 1958 as a teacher and, subsequently, found him serving in various districts across this state and New Jersey. Among some of his administrative positions were assistant superintendent in Summit, N.J.; principal in Groton; and superintendent in New Berlin, N.Y.

McAuliffe and his family live in Canandaigua and are members of St. Mary's Parish there.

Elmira — New faculty members on the Notre Dame High School faculty are Kathleen Dixon, who will teach theology; Dr. Malvin Michelson-Thiery, a graduate of Notre Dame High School, who will teach science; and Cheryl Tenny, who will teach business.

Religious Education Office Names Field Office Leaders

Patricia Lawlor has been named consultant to a new field office for diocesan religious education to open in Geneva Sept. 6.

The office will be located in the Finger Lakes Office of Social Ministry building, 21 High St., and will serve parishes in the Yates/Ontario/Wayne and Seneca/Cayuga regions.

Ms. Lawlor has previously served as religious education coordinator at St. Cecilia, Rochester, and St.

Alphonsus, Auburn, and as religious education administrator at Good Shepherd, Henrietta.

"My priority for this year will be to get to know the people of the regions I will be serving," she said.

In a like announcement, the diocesan office revealed that Virginia Stanton will head the Southern Tier field office which opened in Elmira in 1981 to serve that area. For the past nine years she has served as religious education coordinator at St. Mary Our Mother in Horseheads and as field representative for the diocesan office for the Chemung/Schuyler Region. She is "looking forward to continuing the services begun by Sister Mary Lynch," she said.

The diocesan announcement said, "The purpose of both offices is to provide consulting and resource services for religious education programs in the regions they serve. Among services provided are assisting parishes in curriculum and sacramental preparation, and conducting regional meetings of religious education personnel. Parishes in these regions are encouraged to contact these offices for assistance in religious education programs."

Rochester, New York 14617

a good place to learn

Bishop Kearney is a co-institutional Catholic High School staffed by dedicated Christian Brothers, School Sisters of Notre Dame, priests and lay persons offering quality Catholic education to the people of Rochester.

Academics: The Bishop Kearney curriculum provides a rich and varied secondary education amply preparing students for continued study at the college level. Bishop Kearney graduation standards more than meet the admission requirements for all liberal arts colleges and, with appropriate electives, all engineering and technical institutions. In addition, complete Guidance and personnel services are especially designed to make the educational process a personal growth experience for each student.

Activities: As part of the over-all educational process, the student activity program forms an integral part of school life. Each student is strongly urged to participate and to develop his or her talents in some of the many activities sponsored by the school. The band, color guard, debate and oratory, spring musical, newspaper, ski club, and student government are a sampling. In addition to a complete physical educational program and strong intramural program, the school sponsors teams in all major sports.
