

r with Christ!"

Eph. 2:5

"One is coming after me...and I am not fit to undo his sandal-strap" (Jn. 1:26-27). Serving the suffering -- the least of His brothers -- the Church's missionaries serve the Lord. Kneel down with them before Jesus on World Mission Sunday, Oct. 23.

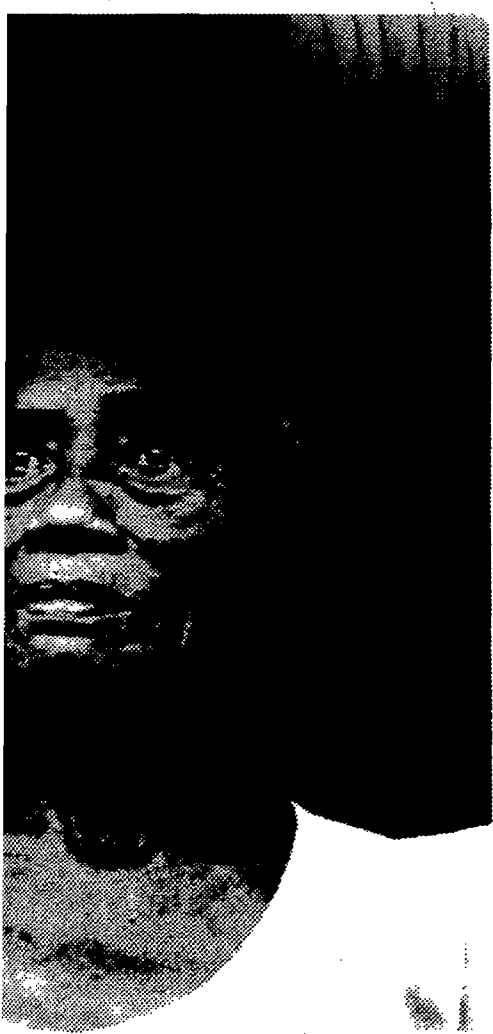

SUNDAY

Oct. 23, 1983

will be felt far beyond the
you encourage and the generosity
ends of the earth.

Cho Alexia, a Korean lay woman, shares the love of Christ with the poor and abandoned of Seoul. A witness to the Gospel message among her own people, she illustrates in her life the missionary dimension of everyone called to follow Christ. World Mission Sunday, celebrated Oct. 23 this year, calls all Christians to an awareness of their own potential -- and responsibility -- for missionary involvement.

er surpasses what the missionary brings,
lorious Body of Christ on Oct. 23, World

Pope John Paul II urges us, "Let your faith shine before the world as a lamp in the darkness." And the light of love is reflected back a hundredfold in power. Be a shining example of faith and love on World Mission Sunday, Oct. 23.