

Demonstrators block the main gate at Seneca Army Depot.

Flag-waving counter demonstrators express their disapproval of the peace demonstration.

Photos by
Anthony J. Costello

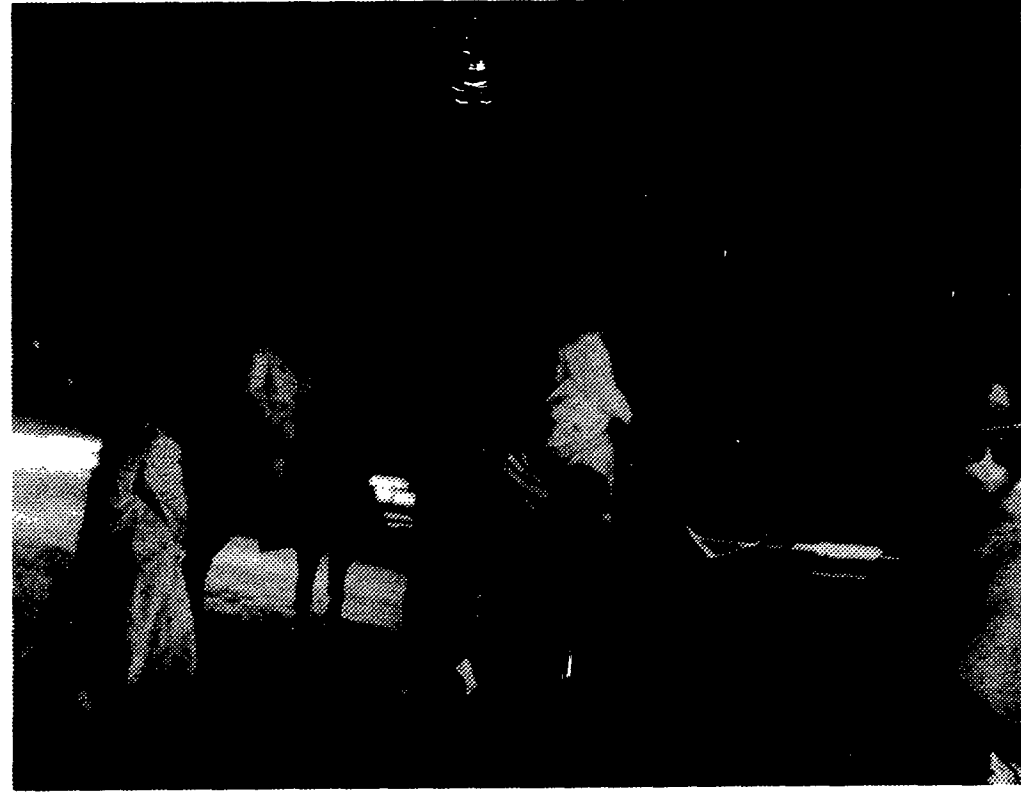

The peace activists continually shifted the line-up at the gates.

Counter demonstrators shouted jeers.

A banner expresses one group's sentiment.

Mounted State Police were posted at the gate long before the dawn broke.