

St. Ann's President Re-elected as Head Of National Group

Sister Marie Michelle Peartree, president of St. Ann's Home/The Heritage, was recently re-elected to a second term as president of the American Association of Homes for the Aging.

While attending AAHA's annual meeting in Chicago, Sister Marie Michelle was installed before some 2300 persons. Keynote speaker was Cardinal Joseph Bernardin, archbishop of Chicago. Among out-of-town guests were Martin Birmingham, chairman of St. Ann's board, and his wife Ann; James D. Ryan, vice chairman of the board, and his wife Joan; Donald D. Lennox, former member of the board and now chief executive officer of International Harvester, Chicago, and his wife Jane.

Sister Marie Michelle, the first woman president in AAHA's history, has been in that position since 1982. She held the office of president-elect in 1980-81 and vice president in 1979. She also is the past president of the New York Association of Homes for the Aging, members of which distributed buttons in Chicago which read: "New York: The Peartree State."

The AAHA is a national organization of some 2,200 nonprofit facilities who give housing, social care and health care for some 350,000 older Americans. Its executive vice president, Sheldon L. Goldberg, said, "AAHA is indeed fortunate to have

Sister Marie Michelle at the helm for another year. Under her strong leadership in 1983, AAHA has grown significantly in numbers of members. It has dramatically increased the scope of membership services. It has introduced bold innovations including the National Group Purchasing Program, financing strategies that can provide for more nonprofit homes to serve a burgeoning elderly population... but most important, Sister Marie

Michelle, through her own example, has inspired our members to strive for new heights of achievement."
