Who do think will win the Democratic nomination for president?

"I think Gary Hart. I think he has more ideas than either Jessie Jackson or Walter Mondale. I saw the debate and Hart had more ideas about how to correct Reagan's mistakes. Definitely Hart has a chance to defeat Reagan. I would vote for Gary Hart."

"I'd have to say Walter Mondale. I think his policies are more apt to apply to the majority of the people. I think the people like him. He seems to know where the nation stands and knows what has to be done to better the nation's prosperity. I think the chance is always there for him to defeat Reagan but it is a slim one. Reagan is doing a pretty good job and he is well liked."

"Gary Hart because he is young and people are comparing him to John Kennedy. He has a good attitude and he appeals to the younger voter. I don't think he will defeat Reagan. People seem to be satisfied with Reagan. Hart's main strength is popularity with the younger voter."

"I favor Jessie Jackson but I don't think he will take the nomination. But if he were to continue after the convention on an independent ticket he would do better than most people think he would. I think Mondale will take the nomination. He is better known, has been around longer and has experience. I think he could defeat Reagan, but it would be close because Reagan hasn't done badly."

BRENT MATTHEWSON

"I think Jessie Jackson should win. He is more the peacemaker. In the debate he talked peace. He is the best man. I believe he could defeat Reagan if he gets the support. Everyone should want the peacemaker. I think both Gary Hart and Walter Mondale can defeat Reagan."

SEAN KEEGAN
Junior

"I think Walter Mondale will probably win because the early caucuses gave him an advantage. I believe, however, that Gary Hart is just as capable of winning. I don't think Mondale can defeat Reagan. Reagan is doing a capable job and most people agree he should win re-election."

Aquinas, BK, McQuaid All Have Finalists

JOHN E. KELLY, Aquinas Institute, plans to study electrical engineering this fall at Bucknell University of the University of Notre Dame. He participates in the Aquinas ski club, forensics team and is editor-in-chief of the yearbook. He is an Eagle Scout and enjoys tennis, backpacking and computer programming. His father is in research for Eastman Kodak Company.

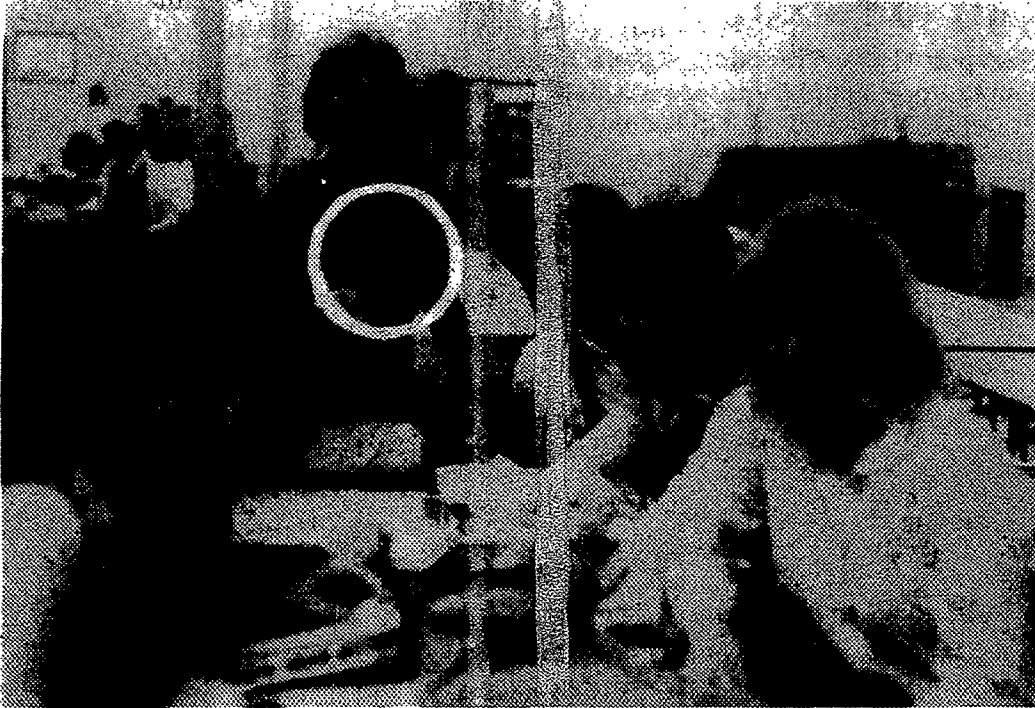

MICHAEL MENDOLIA is ranked first in his class at Bishop Kearney where he is president of the National Honor Society. He has also participated in the jazz, concert and marching bands; the school's literary magazine, yearbook and newspaper staffs; speech teams and bowling leagues. Michael plans to attend the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to study materials science. His father is in research for Eastman Kodak.

ROBERT NEMES has been active in a variety of projects at McQuaid Jesuit High School. He is currently president of the Model United Nations Club and has been involved in sports as well as acting as layout editor of the school yearbook. He volunteers his time to work with the handicapped and has been active in the school's annual fundraising auction. He is an Eagle Scout. This fall he plans to attend either Princeton University or the University of Pennsylvania to study engineering and finance in preparation for a career in banking. His father is in film technical services with Eastman Kodak Company.

TAMMY RAMSEY, Aquinas Institute, is planning a career in computer science after college. While attending Aquinas she was Junior Achievement vice president, played soccer for three years, performed in the school musicals, was drama lighting technician and a member of the Equestrian Club. Tammy's father is employed with Continental Insurance Company.

GRETCHEN LUCHSINGER of Bishop Kearney, according to a Merit Scholarship announcement, is considering a career in publishing. Gretchen has been an active student at BK as editor of the school newspaper, yearbook copy editor, forensic team member (2 years), first place winner in the Optimist International Oratoricals, clarinetist with Mideast Concert Band and the All-American Youth Band, a New York State Regents Scholarship winner and vice-president of the National Honor Society. Her father is associated with the Mobil Oil Company.

Winner's Circle

RapAround weekly will run a photo of a group of students taken somewhere in the diocese. One person will be circled and if that person brings the clipping to the Courier-Journal before noon of the Tuesday following our publication date, he or she will receive $5. This week's photo was taken at Bishop Kearney. The person circled should bring the clipping to Joan M. Smith, Courier-Journal, 114 South Union St., by noon, Tuesday, April 24, to receive $5.

April At BK

The Bishop Kearney Marching Kings, with a score of 80 points, took first place in the small band division at the New York City St. Patrick's Day parade. Twenty-eight bands competed for the first place honors in this division of the annual parade.

Hilton High School's Crimson Cadets placed second in the large band division.

It was open house at Bishop Kearney High School for area seventh graders April 9-13. Visiting pupils attended ninth grade classes, had a general tour of the school and a question and answer session with BK administrators. Participating schools were St. Margaret Mary, St. Salome, Blessed Sacrament, St. Rita, Holy Trinity, Christ the King, and St. Cecilia. Brother Joseph Clark, director of Development, was event coordinator.

The BK Parent's Club celebrated their Spring Family Mass and Breakfast Sunday, April 8. Father Charles Manning, school chaplain, celebrated the liturgy, and St. Salome's Folk Group sang. The event was organized by Brother A.P. Bechner with the help of Mothers' Club members Sharon Mangione and Mary Kukuvka.
