

Don't forget your pet...

Clever and practical Christmas presents which the family pet will be sure to adore

The holiday shopping season is fully underway, and you're eagerly searching for an array of new and unusual gifts to please all the important people in your life.

During this busy, hectic time, be sure to include a gift for that special companion and loyal friend: The family pet.

There are a number of exciting and practical gift items available this year that are sure to please both you and your pet.

According to the Pet Information Bureau, your local pet store can offer you a wide selection of pet accessories, from the basic products to the more unusual, that are sure to please even the most finicky pets.

Like humans, cats and dogs need a space in the home they can claim as their own. Why not accommodate your pet with a comfortable bed?

Whether you select a simple fur-lined floor mat or a more extravagant brass bed-frame, your companion animal will immediately fall in love with his new sleeping quarters.

If your future plans include a generous amount of travel, several items are now available to help make your trips more comfortable and convenient.

Oversized tote bags, designed to hold cats and small dogs, are an attractive way to carry Fifi or Tabby along for the ride without having to worry about their escape.

And whether you're taking a long road trip or just a short drive to the market, special car seats are available to strap your pet in place while allowing him to observe the scenery.

Hamsters and guinea pigs can get the winter doldrums just like humans, so look for something that will add a little excitement and adventure into their lives.

New cages, in a variety of styles and shapes, combine living quarters with exercise gyms and running trails for a total fitness center. Your furry friend will love staying in shape all year round.

Birds are gentle, friendly pets that fill a home with pleasant singing and background chirps. This Christmas, your companion will certainly enjoy receiving a new assortment of toys that will keep him amused and happy for months to come.

You'll enjoy watching your parakeet play hide-and-seek with a variety of unusual mirrors, or toy with its new bell and ring set. And, don't forget to give Tweetie's cage a new chic look with a fashionable cage cover.

The next time you clean your aquarium, why not also plan to add a few unusual accessories to change the underwater decor. Air filters now come with attractive ceramic statues that create the illusion of bubbles coming from an underwater diver or sunken ship.

And your fish will appreciate having new plants and different color lights to change the scenery and give the feel of a totally new environment.

Small toys or grooming items make great stocking stuffers so, if you don't already have a pet stocking handy, a variety of pre-packaged stockings that are ready to hang, and filled with special pet toys and snacks, can be purchased, too.

Christmastime is the season for giving and sharing, and pets enjoy being a part of the excitement and festivities almost as much as people.

This year, make sure your pet is well represented under the tree with unique and useful accessories that he can enjoy throughout the year.

This Christmas 1984 spread The Good News by Giving a Bible or Faith Filled Book. Remind the Word that Jesus is the "Reason for the Season" by send cards that keep this Message. And give the gift that will assure the receiver of God's love and your love All year long. It's Christmas time at Logo's and
