

Soviets Honor Latvian Cardinal, Raise Questions

By NC News Service
The only cardinal in the Soviet Union has received the honorary medal of the Soviet Peace Fund, the official Soviet disarmament campaign. The Soviet news agency Tass said 89-year-old Cardinal Julijans Vaivods of Riga and Liepaja in Latvia received the award "in appreciation of his active involvement in the peace movement and the support of the church he leads for the peaceful policy of the Soviet state." Cardinal Vaivods was quoted as saying, "There is no...task more important than that of preserving peace, since modern weapons can destroy human civilization and life on earth itself." At the Vatican, press spokesman Joaquin Navarro-Valls said that, "for now, there is no Vatican reaction."

However, a Vatican source familiar with Latvian issues said the award was "no doubt...a propaganda move in some sense." However, the Vatican source also said that despite the cardinal's requests, he had not been allowed by Soviet authorities to visit Rome for nearly two years. In particular, he said, Cardinal Vaivods was refused permission to attend the 1983

Synod of Bishops at the Vatican. In 1983, when named a cardinal, the Latvian church leader said he hoped he could be "a bridge between the Vatican and Moscow." In 1979, a Soviet press agency quoted him as saying the signing of the SALT II agreement "has filled the hearts of pious Catholics with joy." The Soviet Peace Committee campaigns in and out of Russia for disarmament views identical to those of Soviet authorities. In Latvia, a Baltic republic forcibly absorbed by the Soviet Union in the mid-1940s, Catholics are about 10 percent of a total population of 2.5 million. guided experiences of prayer, and the opportunity to share with others.
