DIOCESAN ROUNDUP

Cenacle Plans Events

Upcoming events planned by the Cenacle Renewal Center are a day of prayer, lectures and a workshop, all conducted by Jesuit Father Thomas H. Green.

Father Green, a native Rochesterian, is spiritual director of San Jose Seminary in Manila, and an associate professor of philosophy and theology at Ateneo de Manila University.

The Cenacle will present a day of renewal with Father Green at the center, East Avenue, Wednesday, May 8, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Themes for the day will be drawn from his book, "When the Well Runs Dry," among other sources.

The program will include a rhythm of conferences, personal reflection, sharing, luncheon and celebration of the Eucharist. An offering of $10 is requested.

A lecture series titled "Spirituality Today: Lessons From the Third World and the Orient" is scheduled at the Cenacle Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 7, 8 and 9 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. An offering of $4 per lecture or $10 for the series is requested.

Additional lectures and a workshop on spiritual direction will be conducted by Father Green later in May. For information or reservations on any of these events, contact the Cenacle Renewal Center, 693 East Ave., Rochester, or phone (716)-271-8755.

St. Agnes Plans Banquet

The Rosary Society of St. Agnes Church, Avon, will present its annual Spring Banquet and Fashion Show Tuesday, May 14, at 6:30 p.m. The banquet at the Avon Inn will feature a menu of prime rib, chicken cordon bleu, shrimp or scallops.

Tickets are available from officers and band leaders of the society, and at the rectory. All parishioners are invited.

Tots' Program Open For Fall

The Early Childhood Program at St. James School has openings for its two-day sessions beginning in September, 1985. The school, 119 Brockley Road, Rochester, will accept children three years and older for the Tuesday-Thursday program. For more information, call the school office, 482-1523.

Aquinas Stages Musical

Aquinas Institute will present the high-spirited musical "Once Upon A Mattress," a tale which takes the audience to a mythical 15th century kingdom where the ladies of the court are forbidden to marry until the young prince finds a suitable princess.

Based upon the familiar fairy tale "The Princess and the Pea," the show will feature Karen Fanale as the heroine, Princess Winifred, and Steve Elliott as Prince Dauntless the Drab. Members of the cast are directed

Alumnae Plan Banquet

The Nazareth Academy Alumnae Association's annual banquet is 6 p.m., Monday, May 6, at the Mapledale Party House, 1020 Maple St. Members of graduating classes from 1915 to 1980, with numbers ending in five or zero, are invited this year.

"We expect our biggest turnout ever," commented Donna Warner, president. "Our estimates are for about 1,000 attendees this year, since the school's largest class, 1965, celebrates its 20th anniversary." The class of 1965 graduated more than 400 students, including Sister by Father James Kelly, who has previously directed "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown" and "Ten Little Indians" on the Aquinas stage. Conducting the pit orchestra is Brian Coughlin.

Performances are scheduled Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 3, 4 and 5 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. Tickets are $3.50 for the general public and $2.50 for senior citizens. They are available by calling the school, 254-2020, or by calling 889-1190 or 889-9699.

Elaine Englert, Nazareth Academy principal.

The banquet will feature past and former members of the academy's faculty, an illustrated history of the 114-year-old school, entertainment by the school's new show choir and group photographs.

One graduate from the class of 1915, Madeline Nasseth Rheinwald, will travel from Florida to attend, according to Sister Maria Pacelli of the academy's alumnae office.

The banquet will also initiate the Academy's fourth annual fund drive.

Aquinas Paper Places Second

The Maroon and White, Aquinas Institute's student newspaper, has received second-place honors from the American Scholastic Press Association, scoring 820 points out of 1,000 possible.

Perfect scores were achieved by the newspaper in consistency in following philosophy, articles geared to arouse student interest, good factual evidence and research, and special features, according to Vilma Goetting, faculty moderator. Artwork and editing also scored highly.

Goetting credits Pasquale Iannoli, the newspaper's editor, and Mark Simonelli, assistant editor, with coordinating and inspiring the writers of The Maroon and White.

Fisher Softball Team Meets Success; Men's Tennis, Defeat

Forget about the sophomore jinx. In only its second season of competition, the St. John Fisher women's softball team has a lock on the honor of most-improved women's team at the college.

Following an impressive first-year record of 7-8, the Cardinals, under first-year Coach Nick Urzetta, improved their record to 6-2 following double-header splits on the road at LeMoyne College on Monday, April 22, and at SUNY Buffalo on Wednesday, April 24.

Sophomore Beth Buddendeck won her fourth game of the season in the nightcap against LeMoyne College, 3-2, in eight innings. The Cardinals dropped a tough 2-1 decision in the opener, their first loss of the season. Against SUNY Buffalo, Buddendeck won her fifth game of the season as the Cardinals rebounded from an 11-1 loss with a convincing 12-3 victory in the nightcap.

Men's Tennis

Stopped already this spring by rain, snow and a measles epidemic at Hobart College, Coach Larry Lays' men's tennis squad met an even tougher obstacle Friday, April 19, losing to the University of Rochester, 9-0.

In the top match of the day, first singles, senior Chris Tuite won the opening match 6-2, before dropping the last two sets, 6-3 and 6-1, to Joachim Hammer, a freshman from West Germany.
