

Jeff Goulding/Courier-Journal
 Directly above, students are shown getting off to a good start in a jump-rope race. Above right, Doug Switzer tosses his first ring in an effort to win another stuffed animal; he had already won four. Below right, Sean Gilleskie tests his weightlessness in the Moon Walk. Below left, third graders head toward the finish line in a gunny sack race.

Holy Trinity Topples Last Year's Mission Goal

The aroma of freshly popped popcorn and sizzling hot dogs filled the air as Holy Trinity school kicked off its Mission Day May 24. Cries from various booths echoed across the open area behind the school, as "hecklers" tried to entice the surrounding participants into assorted games of skill.

At any given time, an anxious gathering of expectant astronauts waited outside the Moon Walk to take a simulated space walk in stocking feet. Elsewhere, the true artists emerged from the pack, taking their turns at spin art, a process of painting done by spinning the "canvas" on a disc while squirting paint at it to create varied designs.

The athletes put their best feet forward in a wide variety of races that included jump ropes, gunny sacks, and potatoes.

Nearly $2000 was raised during the three-and-one half hour event. This is $700 more than was raised last year. The money so far has been allocated to the work of the Sisters of St. Joseph, Holy Childhood, inner-city Schools, Rochester Interfaith Jail Ministry, Covenant House, and some overseas missions.

Funds for St. Jude's

Nazareth Academy freshmen claimed "it's all in the numbers," as they raised about $300 for St. Jude's Children's Hospital in a recent Math-a-Thon, sponsored by Nu Alpha Zeta, the Academy's Math Club.

Freshman math students collected pledges for each correct answer they provided to problem-solving exercises, brain teasers and algebra and geometry exercises supplied by the "Math Masters" program.

All participants received certificates, while those who brought more $25 or more in pledges received T-shirts. As one student noted, the best reward was that "I just feel great about helping out a little kid who is really sick; they're depending on us."

Skating Institute Awards

Four Catholic grade school pupils were awarded figure skating medals at the annual Skating Institute of Rochester Invitational competition.

Erica Eichelberger, fourth grade, St. Pius X School, Chili, won two medals in intermediate ladies freestyle. Charles Glaser, St. Stanislaus School, took two medals in subjuvenile men's freestyle, while two medals in subjuvenile ladies' freestyle were awarded to Renee Hiltz, fourth grade, St. Pius X. Kelly McLaughlin, fourth grade, Our Lady of Lourdes, took the bronze in subjuvenile ladies' compulsory.

Notre Dame Honor Students

The Lourdes Chapter of the National Honor Society inducted 35 new permanent members from Notre Dame High School in Elmira during a ceremony Monday, May 6 at the school auditorium. Sister Mary Walter Hickey, school principal, noted the outstanding scholarship, leadership, character and service demonstrated by the following students:

Seniors — Julie Key, Nancy Tranter, Steven Vozenilek, Mae Wisniewski; juniors — Elena Cambio, Christian Danaher, Carolyn Danzi, Daniel Gizzi, Matthew Hunter, Michael Johnston, Christine Kenefick, Vanessa Lee, Karen McCarthy, John Maloney, Amy Potter, Mary Schwenkler, Marie Vea, Kevin Vecchio, Colleen Webster, Tammy Wright; sophomores — David Baccile, Elizabeth Berliner, John Bernatavitz, Jason Breemen, David Ferris, Andrew Garman, Elizabeth Kennedy, Molly McEwan, Patricia Palinkas, Doneen Quick, Megan Rurak, Ann Snyder, Chanika Svetvilas, Mary Tarantelli, Sean Tierney.

Sports Camps Offered

Sports instructional camps for boys and girls, featuring basketball, soccer and cheerleading, will be conducted by the Nazareth College athletic staff for seven weeks this summer on the following schedule:

Boys' basketball — grades 9-12, June 24-28; grades 6-9, July 8-12; $89 includes lunch and T-shirt; directed by Bill Nelson.

Girls' basketball — grades 7-12; July 14-19; $180 resident with meals, $140 day camp with meals, $100 day camp without meals; directed by Mike Decillis.

'Shot Doctor Shooting Camp' — coed for ages 10-18, July 1-3; $89 includes lunch and T-shirt; directed by Bill Nelson.

Soccer Day Camp — coed for ages 6-17 with age-group sessions, July 22-26; $75 with soccer ball/$60 without; directed by Rob Searl.

Soccer Academy — girls ages 13-17, August 12-16; $115 includes lunch and soccer ball/$100 includes lunch; directed by Rob Searl.

Cheerleading — for youth league, junior and senior high, July 29-Aug. 2; $55; directed by Annette Shapiro.

For more information, call (716)586-2525 and ask for program director.

Free Tickets

Central Trust Co. is inviting members of not-for-profit charitable organizations to attend Rochester Red Wings' home games. On a limited basis, the bank is offering free general admission tickets to local groups.

"The idea is to give people who normally couldn't afford a ball game a chance to get out and enjoy themselves and, at the same time, give our Red Wings a boost," said Graham Annett, senior vice president.

To request tickets, organizations call the Central Trust baseball ticket line, 546-4500, or write the Central Trust Community Relations Office, 44 Exchange St., Rochester, 14614.

Fresh Air Families Needed

The Fresh Air Fund is once again seeking families willing to host children from New York City for a two-week summer visit in the Rochester and upstate New York area.

Anyone willing to include a child in family activities and provide friendship in return for a most rewarding experience should call Carol Schmalzbauer, 334-9382, or Nancy Bellis, 266-3756.

Training for Disaster Action Team volunteers will be offered by the Red Cross in three modules during June according to Jerry Seward, team chairman.