Handicapped Camp

Children unable to enjoy summer camp because of a physical handicap may be eligible for Camp Star, the Southern Tier Rotary Club's camp for handicapped children.

Camp Star is held at Watson Homestead, near Coopers Plains, N.Y. in mid-August and is free to eligible youngsters seven through 14.

If you think your child may be eligible, please contact camp director Dan Hurley, 175 Scotch Pine Lane, Erin, N.Y. 14838 or your local Rotary Club.

Burroughs Aids Nazareth

Nazareth College has received $1,500 from the Burroughs Corporation to benefit business students during the 1985/86 academic year according to Laurel Tarcinale, the college's director of development.

Upperclassmen from Nazareth's major programs in accounting, business administration and business education, who have demonstrated outstanding academic achievement, will be eligible for the Burroughs award.

Ciaccio To Address Lawyers' Guild

The St. Thomas More Lawyers' Guild's annual meeting will be at 12:15 p.m. Wednesday, July 24 at the Chamber of Commerce Building, 55 St. Paul St.

Arnold F. Ciaccio, Monroe County surrogate, will offer instructions on how to volunteer to represent mentally retarded persons in guardianship proceedings.

A buffet lunch is available for $7. Reservations may be made by calling Pat or Donna at 454-5075 by July 19.

Volunteers Needed

Summer and year-round drivers and telephone volunteers who can spare one day or part of a day each week are needed for the SEA FISH program. Run by Southeast Ecumenical Ministry (SEM), the program provides free transportation to elderly, disabled and low income people in that area of the city.

Drivers are asked to take clients to essential appointments and telephone volunteers are needed to make the arrangements for transport. College students and teachers are especially welcome in the summer schedule. Please call Kathy Thomas, the program's coordinator, between 9 a.m.-1 p.m. at (716)271-5350 Monday-Friday.

SEM's Food Cupboard is also seeking help to pack and deliver emergency supplies in the area. If you can spare several hours one or two days per month, call Annie Long, Food Cupboard manager, at (716)271-5350 between 1-2 p.m., Monday-Friday.

Film Presented

The Bible Study Group of St. John the Evangelist, Greece, will show the movie "Image of the Beast" Friday, August 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the parish center behind the church.

The saga continues as the anti-Christ establishes a world government that spells death for all who refuse to wear the mark of the beast. The hope of salvation is presented with an impact that will not be forgotten.

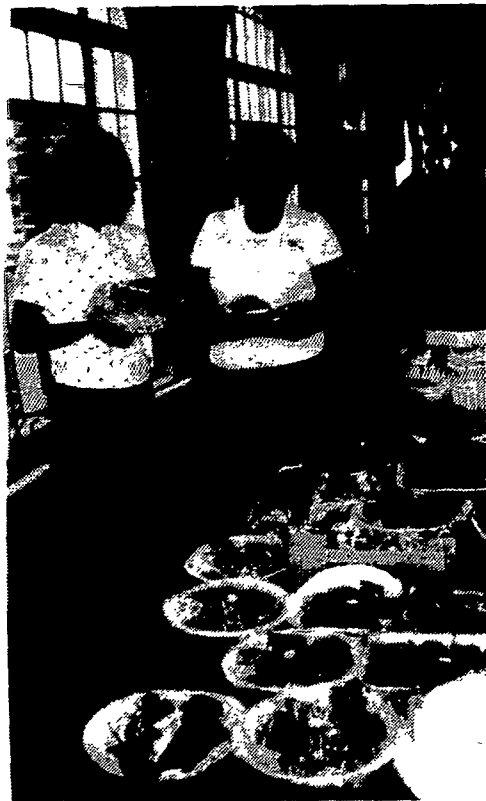

Admission is free, but donations will be accepted for future films. Fellowship and refreshments will follow.

Volunteers Needed

Volunteers interested in helping pregnant women and their families prepare for parenting are needed by Strong Memorial Hospital's Parent and Child Training Program.

Each volunteer will assist a family in planning for household needs and preparing for birth, and facilitate the family's attendance at doctor's appointments and social events. Each family assistant works with just one parent or family.

Volunteers must be high school graduates and parents themselves. Weekly evening training sessions for volunteers begin July 30th at Strong. People interested in participating are encouraged to contact Florence Rappaport, PACT's coordinator of volunteers, at 275-2400.

Helping Hands

Mary Ann Bender (left) and Loretta Baldassari are two reasons the bake sale to benefit Seneca Falls' Helping Hands Fund raised more than $170. Everything was sold out after the 9 a.m. Mass

Volunteers Needed

United Cerebral Palsy needs sidewalkers and leaders for its horseback riding for the handicapped program. No previous experience is needed, and any time commitment is welcome. Lessons are held Tuesday mornings from 10 a.m. to noon at the Blue Fox Farm in Henrietta.

For more information, call Freyda Albin at the United Cerebral Palsy Association office, (716)442-8580, ext. 43.

Ministerial Seminar

An intensive three-day seminar designed to help church ministers become more effective is planned Tuesday through Thursday, August 13, 14 and 15, at Colgate-Rochester Divinity School in Rochester. Five areas of concern will be explored: gifts and competencies; hurts and weaknesses; relational styles; experiences of God; and review the ministry context.

Facilitators planned for the seminar are John Engels, a career development specialist and co-director of Great Lakes Ministry Center, Sister Jean Rodman, S.S.J., consultant in communication skills and group dynamics, and Jim Ramerman, Corpus Christi Parish ministry coordinator and co-director of the Great Lakes Ministry Center.

The seminar is scheduled between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. each day. Registration is required and the cost is $100. Write or call the Great Lakes Ministry Center, 3 Parsells Avenue, Rochester, 14609, (716)288-3854, for more information.

Charismatic Conference Theme Announced

The eighth biennial Vermont Catholic Charismatic Conference, to take place August 9 through 11 at St. Michael's College in Winooski, VT, will have for its theme "I Came To Serve, Not To Be Served," taken from Mark 10:45. There will be three general sessions, a series of workshops from which to choose, a youth track, and a special closing liturgy celebration.

A complete book and tape ministry will be operative during the conference. Nationally-known speakers will address the conference, among them Sister Nancy Kellar and David Thorpe of the National Service Committee for the Renewal, and Father Robert Kaszynski, liaison for the renewal in Fall River, MA.

The conference promises to be a time of spiritual renewal and strengthening and Catholics of all ages are encouraged to attend. Information on registration, housing, and conference activities may be obtained by writing Vermont Catholic Charismatic Conference, 132 Iroquois Ave., Essex Junction, VT 05452, or by calling (802)879-0505. No registrations will be confirmed by phone.

SADD Chapter At Nazareth

Two Nazareth Academy students have organized a chapter of Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD). Junior Katy Klenk and Nora Senecal, a senior, began the chapter because, in Senecal's words, "students ought to know that there are other students who do not approve of or condone drinking and driving." The two conducted an assembly featuring Steve Casper, a quadriplegic confined to a wheelchair after a drunk-driving incident.

"My message to you is don't think it can never happen to you," Casper said, describing how drinking and driving were part of his life during high school. "If I hadn't gotten into the accident, I'd still be drinking and driving. Some of my friends still are."

The program continued with a question-and-answer session and a graphic slide show with pictures from the office of the Monroe County Medical Examiner. Afterward, students were able to register as SADD members while cards with the names and phone numbers of teachers were distributed at the junior prom and senior ball. Klenk explained that, if a student found herself in the car with a drunken driver, she could call a teacher for a ride home.
