

High school news returns to the Courier-Journal

ANNOUNCING: ECHO!

An enterprising band of young journalists makes their debut next week in Echo, a new weekly feature in the Courier-Journal. Echo is a full page of news by and for students in the eight Catholic high schools in the Diocese of Rochester.

Echo will include old C-J favorites Equal Time and Speaking Out as well as new features, including full-length articles on individual students and school programs — AND a music trivia contest (see below).

Look for Echo each week of the school year, starting January 16th.

To the right is a sample of what's to come each week in the Courier-Journal's new Echo.

The Courier-Journal, in conjunction with the House of Guitars, will ask a different music trivia question every week and give away a free album or tape to the individual with the correct answer to our question. (See trivia rules for more details & deadlines.) If yours is the only correct entry, or chosen among several correct entries, you will be sent a certificate similar to the one below, redeemable at the House of Guitars, 651 Titus Ave.

The contest is designed for high school students, but . . . you don't have to be a student to enter. This can be fun for all ages. Win an album or tape for your children, grandchildren, or just one to add to your own collection. The choice of album or tape is entirely up to you.

We're hoping this will be a huge success, but we need your help to make it one.

We're starting our first trivia question this week (see right), so send in your response today if you think you know the answer.

Just think . . . your first album or tape is just a 22¢ stamp away!
