John Tobin, French and Spanish teacher at McQuaid Jesuit High School, left January 1 to teach French and German for three months at Patcham-Fawcett High School in Brighton, England. Tobin, a member of the McQuaid faculty for the past 21 years, was awarded a Fulbright Teacher Exchange Scholarship last year.

This is far from his first trip. He has studied in Avignon, Paris, Rome and Dublin and has led tour groups to France, Germany, Puerto Rico and Canada throughout the past 20 years. He has also served as McQuaid's swimming coach, leading the Knights to 161 consecutive victories, the longest winning streak in history for a high school team in any sport in the state.

Aquinas Institute recently welcomed Michael Dianetti to its faculty as a business teacher. A graduate of Greece Arcadia High School, Dianetti earned a basketball scholarship to Nazareth College, where he is now studying for his master's degree. He has also taught at Canandaigua Academy and has been affiliated with the business office of General Motors.

Calderone, who began practice at St. Joseph's in 1971 and specializes in internal medicine and gastroenterology, is a member of the Sullivan Trail Medical Group. Persaud joined the medical staff in 1977 and as a family practitioner, practices at the Southport Family Medical Center. Fisher specializes in internal medicine and joined the medical staff in 1971.

Diamond was elected at the organization's annual meeting in Honolulu.

Nazareth Academy's exchange student this year is a long way from home. Half a world away to be exact.

Her name is Michiko Takahashi and she came from the Japanese island of Honshu last August to spend a year with the Charles Donner family and students and staff at Nazareth.

Americans have impressed her so far as busy people. "They are involved in so many activities," she remarked. But she's not far behind, having joined the Nazareth volleyball team and ski club.

Takahashi misses her family and friends, but has observed that people in the United States are very kind. "They joke a lot more here," she remarked. "In Japan, people are much more serious."

Exhibit Honors Black Heroes

Rochester's first black entrepreneur and America's most beloved civil rights advocate will be honored at the fourth annual Art for Black History Month exhibit at Nazareth College. The show will be dedicated to Martin Luther King Jr. and Austin Stewart, a liberated slave who became Rochester's first black property-owner and an early human rights advocate.

Prominent and little-known artists will be featured at the exhibit in the Foyer Gallery from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. weekdays and noon-5 p.m. weekends through February 23. Admission is free.

Two Rochester residents, Bob Hossenlopp of Corpus Christi Parish and Greg Haehl of St. Margaret Mary Parish, and a Dryden man, Abraham Schickel of Holy Cross Parish, were among more than 70 young men of post graduate and college age who participated in the annual Glenmary Home Missioners Winter Volunteer Program.

Based at the Glenmary Farm in Vanceburg, Kentucky, the program gives young men an opportunity to serve the underprivileged and experience mission life firsthand. During the week-long program, volunteers help repair and renovate homes and work at the local health care facility.
