

Shadows create eerie images on the pavement as Perez leads the procession down Scio Street, a road that served as one of those "leading to Calvary."

Mary, portrayed by St. Michael's parishioner Maria Martell, holds Perez in her arms after he is taken from the cross Four "women of Jerusalem" kneel at the feet of Jesus as he tells them "don't weep for me, weep for yourselves and your children," during the reenactment of the Eighth Station of the Cross.

Story by
Richard A. Kiley

Photos by Jeff Goulding

was a poignant moment in the