Mercy High School graduate Judy Ann Fuller has earned the Katherine M. Reichel Award from the Alpha Alpha Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society International, a professional organization for women educators.

A Rochester resident, Fuller was recognized for her leadership, potential for success in the field of education and outstanding academic achievements in high school. She received a $500 scholarship with the award, which she will apply to her tuition this fall at SUNY Brockport.

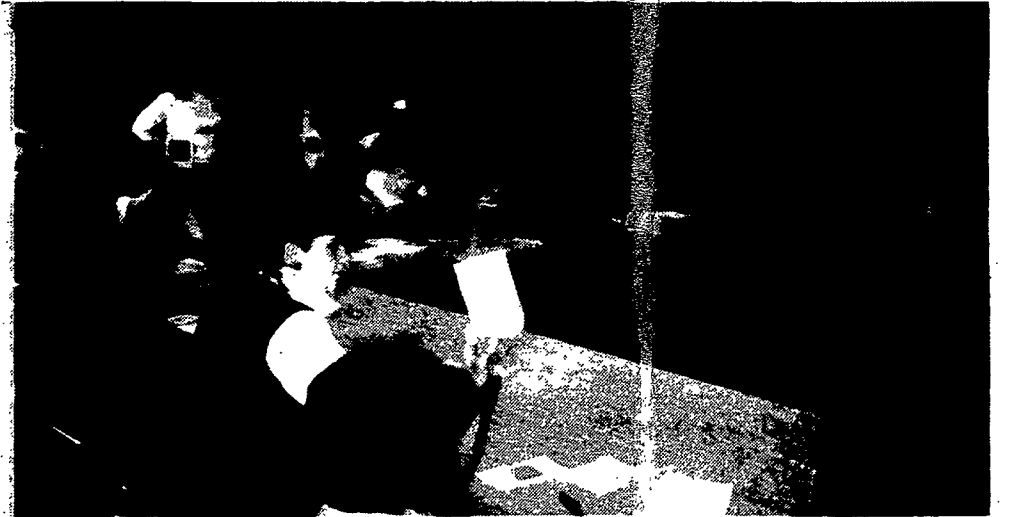

During her years at Mercy, Fuller earned a grade point average of 91 while participating in a number of extracurricular activities.

Katherine M. Reichel was a life-long teacher and charter member of the Rochester-area Alpha Alpha Chapter.

The School of the Holy Childhood has named Andrew J. Meloni of Pittsford to its board of directors. Meloni, a personal lines manager and commercial lines accounts executive at Riedman Corp., was elected at the June 10 board meeting.

Announcement of Meloni's election was made by G. Thomas Clark, chairman of the board of directors. Holy Childhood is a non-profit, non-denominational agency serving mentally retarded children and adults in Monroe County.

Catholic education, vocations, missions, the role of women in the Church, and social justice issues were among the weighty topics considered by an ecumenical council at St. Rita's School in West Webster. Suggested by the students, the council included presentations on each issue, followed by open discussion. Originally slated for an hour and one-half, the discussion continued for three hours. Students voted on 24 proposals. Among those that passed were an endorsement of the need for Catholic schools and of the need to make young people more aware of lay and religious vocations.
