

up Stella Maris on peer support, divine grace

Jeff Goulding/Courier-Journal

waiting for runners to complete a one-mile race. Tim and Kim Campers converse in comfort as they relax with leg massages after the race.

Cobb Goff does the talking while his daughter, Corinne, catches her breath.

Daphne Gallo (right) shares a quiet moment with her mother, Angie.

John Cunningham lends Christine Woodcock a sense of balance on stilts.

Richie and Nathan Auble, aged 6 and 4 respectively, observe Jaime Cassata, 2, as he feeds a cookie to Lucy. Jaime's mother, Dianne, is about to contribute a bit of her lunch to the Stella Maris mascot.