The Redemptorist Fathers have announced that Father Timothy F. Keating, CSsR, will leave Notre Dame Retreat House in Canandaigua this January for a new assignment in New Jersey. Father Patrick W. Gaffney, CSsR, currently provincial director of religious vocations, will succeed Father Keating.

Since his arrival in 1980, Father Keating has served thousands of people throughout the diocese with spiritual counsel and direction. Ordained in 1966, he earned a doctorate in sacred theology at Catholic University of America and a licentiate from the University of St. Michael's College in 1981. From 1974 till 1979 he also taught religious courses in colleges in the U.S. and Canada, including Nazareth College.

Father Gaffney has served on the Notre Dame staff since October. Ordained in 1981, he served as associate pastor of St. Philomena Church in Pittsburgh from 1982-85, and has earned master's degrees in education and divinity from Mount St. Alphonsus Seminary.

Nazareth College's vice president for academic affairs and provost, Sister Marion Hoctor, SSJ, has resigned her position to return to teaching, beginning in the 1988/89 academic

A tenured professor of English and a Victorian literature scholar. Sister Marion was one of the few religious remaining in administrative positions at the college. College President Rose Marie Beston has begun a nationwide search for her replacement.

During Sister Marion's term as chief academic officer, she introduced six new undergraduate majors, nine graduate programs in education and an upper-division program in nursing. She also expanded the college's offerings in the areas of business and computers, and developed a multidisciplinary program for

Before returning to the classroom, Sister Marion plans to take a sabbatical year in England.

Students in grades four through eight at Good Shepherd School in Henrietta participated in the school's annual Social Studies Fair last month.

Overall, 55 students received awards. Earning first-place honors were: fourth grade -Katie Battles, Jennifer Neill, Bobby Caulkins and Jamie Sweet; fifth grade — Sara Bleskoski, Lori Galipeau, Kristine Papke, Marsha O'Leary, Beth Dingman and Stephanie Renica; sixth grade - Michael Lyons, Todd Smith, Art Briscoe, Elizabeth Cappon and Jennifer Kimmel; seventh grade - Marie Britton, Maurizio lanni, Kim St. Clair, Michael Harrington and Danny Cellini; eighth grade — Brian St. Clair, Paul Kurkat, Christ Nikodem and Bryan Renica.

. . . Seventh-grader Rachel Weider will represent Seton Junior High School at the Diocesan Invitational Spelling Bee in February. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Weider of Rochester, Rachel was chosen from among eight candidates at a school spelling bee December 22.

Tiffany Pezzulo will represent Our Lady of Lourdes School in Brighton at the diocesan spelling bee, competing at the fifth-and sixthgrade level. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Pezzulo of Rochester.

Another Lourdes student, Maggie Steinbrenner, was awarded a plaque for writing the school's most outstanding fire prevention essay. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Steinbrenner, of Rochester, Maggie was one of 17 winners in the constest sponsored by the Monroe County Firefighter's Association.

Two seniors at McQuaid Jesuit High School were among 350 high school students who paticipated in the National Young Leaders Conference in Washington, D.C., last month.

Dave Schickler and Matt Schaeffer spent five days taking a first-hand look at how the executive and legislative branches of government deal with such issues as aid to the Nicaraguan contras and the Strategic Defense Initiative.
Both Schaeffer and Schickler are first honors students, editors of the yearbook and varsity lettermen at McQuaid. Next year, Schickler, a Gates resident, plans to attend Georgetown University, while Schaeffer, a Rochester resident, is still deciding among the University of Chicago, Cornell and the University of Rochester.

Diocesan officials announced this week that Patrick O. Sullivan has been appointed director of Bishop Matthew H. Clark's Annual Thanks Giving Appeal.

In the newly created post, Sullivan will manage the overall progress of the diocese's major fundraiser, working closely with the appeal coordinator, Father James Moynihan. Father Moynihan will continue to serve as liaison for the priests' advisory committee and the operational steering committee, which recommend policies for the appeal to Bishop Clark.

Sullivan will also serve parishes as a consultant for other fundraising programs and campaigns. His first priority will be to visit parishes and to find out what pastors and finance committees need, he said

Before joining the diocesan staff, the Brighton resident was executive director of the Rochester chapter of the American Diabetes Foundation for four years. From 1976 to 1982, he was community relations manager for the Xerox Corporation.

Sullivan attended the Rochester Business Institute and Ithaca College, and earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from Drake College. He is a member of St. Mary's Parish in downtown Rochester.

Sullivan said he was attracted to the diocesan job by the challenge it presents. "I like the idea that it's a brand new position," he said. "The sky's the limit."

Sister Mary Alice Roach, president and board chairman of St. Mary's Health Care Services, has accepted a new position as chairman of the board for St. Mary's Hospital in Troy, N.Y.

Her reassignment is one of several administrative changes announced by the Daughters of Charity National Health System, of which both hospitals are a part.

Sister Eileen Kinnarney, former president of the Sisters of Charity Hospital in Buffalo, has been named the new board chairman at St. Mary's. She had been a member of the board of trustees for several years.

Sister Mary Alice came to Rochester in January, 1984, as president. Upon the death of Sister Ann William Bradley in December, 1984, Sister Mary Alice was also appointed Julie Anne Leo of Rush is gaining some practical experience in area doctor's offices and hospitals while working toward a degree as a physician's assistant.

A graduate of Our Lady of Mercy High School, Leo is a senior at King's College in Pennsylvania. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leo of Rush hopes to graduate in August. 1987.

Most recently, Leo worked for six weeks in the office of Dr. Arnold Matlin of Geneseo. Previously, she served in obstetrics and gynecology at St. Mary's Hospital in Rochester.

On a return visit to Immaculate Conception Parish in Ithaca, Father Lewis Brown, former assistant and now chaplain in the U.S. Navy, brought a gift for the parish school - a Madonna and Child commissioned by him from a Korean artist.
