Aquinas Institute seniors Christopher McElrath and Thomas M. Kelly have been honored for outstanding academic achievements based on their PSAT scores.

McElrath was one of 3,000 students (chosen from among 50,000 applicants) to receive the National Achievement Award for Black Scholars. Kelly was one of 35,000 students across the country to earn the National Merit Scholarship for Commended Students.

Aquinas freshman Mike Marhatta has received the Congressional Award, established in 1979 to recognize youths who volunteer their time to better their communities.

A Life Scout with Troop 292, in North Chili, Marhatta has helped the Chili Lions with their Christmas basket program. He also helped to build the Fairbanks Road Community Playground.

Nazareth Academy art teacher Sister Anne deMare has earned a Juror's Award from the Rochester Art Club for her print, "Transformation." The print was on display at the club's 109th annual exhibition last month at the Village Gate Art Center.

Sister Anne teaches drawing, painting and printmaking at Nazareth Academy. She received her undergraduate degree from Nazareth College and a master's degree in fine arts from Rochester Institute of Technology.

Students, faculty and staff members at St. Joseph's School in Penfield celebrated with Norma Heym last month as she became a U.S. citizen.

A native of Honduras, Heym has lived in the U.S. for seven years and has taught Spanish at St. Joseph's for the past two years.

She and her husband, Martin, have two children, Jackie and Antje.

Gerald J. Archibald has been elected to the board of directors at the School of the Holy Childhood. A senior manager at Bonadio, Innes and Co., Archibald resides in Rochester.

Students in Dianne Sasiadek's first-grade class at St. Thomas the Apostle School in Rochester are discovering the poet in each of them.

With help from fourth-graders supervised by Kathleen Bates and Cynthia Martin, the young writers recently composed and illustrated their first poems.

After serving for 20 years as evening receptionist at St. Ambrose Rectory, Rose Hendrickson has decided to resign.

The parish bulletin announcement of her retirement described Hendrickson as "a perfect example of what stewardship is all about — an unselfish giving of her talent, time and treasure."

Members of the parish family at St. Ambrose expressed their gratitude and wished her many years of health and happiness.

Jeff Van Son, a parishioner of St. Catherine of Siena Church in Ithaca, is the first recipient of the "Outstanding Youth Citizen of the Year" award.

A sophomore at Ithaca High School, he plays intramural basketball, serves on the student council and performs in the orchestra.

Van Son, who is also an active Eagle Scout, altar server and minister of prayer, serves on the parish's Youth Ministry Committee as well as the Tompkins County Youth Court. He is the son of George and Helen Van Son of Hickory Road in Ithaca.

Melanie Davis, a senior at Nazareth Academy, has earned a scholarship to Eastern Nazarene College in Quincy, Mass.

The scholarship, which pays tuition and other expenses of $2,500 per year for four years, is awarded on the basis of academic standing.

Active in music ministry at the Church of the Nazarene in North Chili, Davis plays piano, saxophone and clarinet. At Nazareth, she belongs to the Show Choir, band, Perosian Choir and Naz Jazz, in addition to the National Honor Society and Nu Alpha Zeta, the school's math team.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Davis of Rochester, she plans to major in music and minor in psychology next year.

Residents of area nursing homes are enjoying musical performances by 11 students from St. Louis School's Suzuki String Ensemble.

The Suzuki method teaches young children to play music through hearing rather than by reading notes. Barbara Noval, who introduced the Suzuki method at St. Louis in 1982, directs the students, who range in age from 6 to 11.

St. Mary's School in Waterloo has announced the names of its sports coordinator, coaches and assistants for the 1986/87 sports season.

Bruce Ike, overall sports coordinator, will coach seventh- and eighth-grade boys' varsity basketball. Ed Courtney returns as coach for the fifth- and sixth-grade junior varsity team, assisted by Jim Benedicks and Steve McCrae.

Ron Morganti again coaches the girls' basketball team, assisted by Holly Hunt. Coaching seventh- and eighth-grade cheerleaders are Faith Tam and Diane Keiffer. Carleen DiSanto is coaching fifth- and sixth-grade cheerleaders.

Jean B. Higgins will manage fundraising efforts for Rochester's Ronald McDonald House, as director of development for Home Away From Home, Inc., the independent not-for-profit corporation that will own and operate the home.

The Ronald McDonald House will offer a place to stay for families whose children are hospitalized with serious or life-threatening illnesses.

A native of Brighton, Higgins attended Our Lady of Lourdes School and the former Academy of the Sacred Heart. She is currently a parishioner at St. Mary's Church, downtown.

The Catholic Community of the Blessed Trinity in Wolcott and Red Creek recently elected officers for the new year. They are: Joe Gallant, president; Pam Gallant, secretary-treasurer; Nancy Hamilton, historian; and Mary Sina, publicity chairman.

St. John Fisher College has named Basilian Father John R. Cavanaugh, a professor of English for more than 27 years, to its board of trustees.

Father Cavanaugh, who chaired the English department for more than 13 years, has served on most of the college's committees, including the Faculty Council and Faculty Welfare Committee. He has also served two terms as superior of the local Basilian community.

A native of Rochester, Father Cavanaugh earned a doctor of philosophy degree from Saint Louis University and a master's in English from the University of Toronto. He specializes in the literature and history of the English Renaissance, utopian and dystopian literature, and modern Irish letters.

Aside from his work at St. John Fisher, Father Cavanaugh is a trustee of Aquinas Institute and a member of the Board of Friends of the Rochester Public Library, as well as the Sister Cities Committee for Waterford, Ireland.
