

Nationally known feminist to address Nazareth graduates

Nazareth Academy will graduate its 115th senior class in ceremonies Monday, June 22, at the Eastman Theatre. Speaker for the 8 p.m. graduation will be Rosalie Muschal-Reinhardt. Muschal-Reinhardt, a member of Nazareth's religious studies department, was one of the first women to graduate from a Catholic seminary and is a nationally known speaker on feminism in the Church.

Cynthia Yantz, academically ranked first among the class of 110 seniors, is a Rochester resident who plans to study education, history or English at Long Island University. Also planning to attend LIU is Patricia Marcaida, another Rochesterian, who is looking toward a major in business and marketing. Marcaida is ranked second in her class.

Teens rank among biggest fans of nostalgic Catholic-trivia game

Washington (NC) — "Is the Pope Catholic?" may look like a nostalgia game for old-timers who lived through Latin masses, pagan babies and knuckle-raps from disciplinarians. But some of the most ardent players are teen-agers, say Richard and John Crowley, blood brothers who are co-creators of the game.

"Is the Pope Catholic?" is something of a cross between Trivial Pursuit, Monopoly and several other games. The object is to climb the hierarchical ladder from altar boy to pope. To do that you have to make it around the game board — a path of rosary beads — past the Hail Holy Queen medal five or more times, by throwing dice and obeying the instructions on the bead you land on.

Hitting a Bingo bead can move you up the hierarchical ladder in a single turn (Hey, I've made cardinal!), but a Pagan Place bead moves you down a step (Back to bishop, buddy!).

"How many Stations of the Cross are there?" If you land on a Baltimore Bonus bead and answer a question like that correctly, you advance an extra nine beads. (Answer: 14).

Land on one of the Nostalgia beads, and you have to share a Catholic memory — an anecdote about a memorable priest or nun, a "most embarrassing moment" story, a favorite Catholic joke. The other players vote whether your tale was good enough to earn you a free turn.

The Crowleys, both psychotherapists, worked the game out together. Richard Crowley in Los Angeles was the main inspiration, while most of the research on the Baltimore Bonus and Vatican Vitals trivia was done, with the help of some priest friends, by John Crowley in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Richard Crowley, who handles the sales by mail and sees all the letters commenting on the game, said he was surprised at "how many teen-agers like to play it with their parents. They groove on listening to the adults sharing their nostalgia." He called it a "humanizing experience" for the younger generation to discover some of the things the parents did when they were in school.

John Crowley said that when people get an opportunity to "share their own nostalgia" about the Church and laugh with others about it, "if they had negative feelings, sometimes these become less negative. If they blamed the Church (for an unpleasant episode), sometimes they are able to see their own role. It opens up some doors."

"Is the Pope Catholic!" is available for $29.95 plus $4.50 postage and handling from Crowley Connections, 11684 Ventura Blvd., Suite 444, Studio City, Calif. 91604.
