Downtown forums to resume

St. Mary's, Rochester — The Hon. Elizabeth W. Pine, a justice of the New York state Supreme Court's Appellate Division, will launch the Downtown Community Forum's "Life After Five" series this fall on Wednesday, September 23. Justice Pine, who is the first female member of the Rotary Club of Monroe County, will speak on "Women and the Law" from 5-7 p.m. in the church's lower-level community center.

On Tuesday, October 6, Gary Cicoria, commanding officer of the Rochester Police Mounted Patrol, will share his experiences and hopes from 10 years with the mounted patrol.

Joseph G. Kelly, a professor of religious studies at Nazareth College, will lead discussion on "Christians and Jews: Toward a Better Understanding" on October 20 and 27.

All sessions are free and open to the public. Participants in the Tuesday afternoon gatherings are invited to bring brown-bag lunches. Dessert and beverages are provided. For information, call (716)232-7140.

Colloquium, ramp dedication planned

Blessed Sacrament, Rochester — Parishioners plan a special 12:15 p.m. Mass on Sunday, September 20, to celebrate the dedication of a new ramp that makes the church accessible to wheelchairs. All are invited to the Mass as well as coffee hour sponsored immediately afterward by the Young Adult Planning Team.

The parish religious education office is also sponsoring a colloquium on the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI). The MBTI is a psychological instrument that focuses on people's individual gifts and their constructive uses.

Father Francis Blighton will lead discussions on Thursday, October 1, 8 and 15, from 7:30-9:30 p.m. in the school. Those who have never completed the MBTI profile may do so when they register for the series. To register, contact Liz Maurer, (716)442-7517, by Tuesday, September 22.

Council members host parish picnic

St. Leo, Hilton — Parish council members and representatives of other church groups are planning a picnic on Sunday, September 20, beginning at 2 p.m. Father Chester Klocek, who has served St. Leo's as pastor since 1967, will be the guest of honor. Father Klocek recently celebrated his 40th anniversary of ordination.

Organizers will provide beverages and entertainment. Guests are asked to bring a dish-to-pass and table service. In case of rain, the celebration will be moved from the parish grounds to the community center.

Faculty members and students have welcomed a new principal and 10 new teachers to the Aquinas Institute. Serving as principal is Father H.B. Gardner.

Also joining the faculty are: Joanne Sauve, science and audiovisual; Father Albert Cylwicki, math; Eileen Goble, English; Sylvia Maffucci, chemistry; Father Dennis Noelke, campus ministry and theology; Diana Schroeder, Spanish and English.

John Dash and Louis DeCarolis were among more than 150 men who participated in the annual Glenmary Home Missioners Summer Volunteer Program. Based in Vanceburg, Ky., the program offers men of college age or older the chance to serve the people of Lewis County and learn about the history, poverty and culture of Appalachia.

Volunteers from 27 states and several foreign countries renovated a home to be used as a shelter for neglected and abused people, and for victims of fires. They also spent time feeding and entertaining the elderly at a local health care center.

Dash is a member of St. Anne's Parish in Rochester. DeCarolis is from Most Precious Blood Parish.

Denise K. Abbey has joined the development staff at St. Joseph's Hospital in Elmira as a graphics media assistant. Abbey, a graduate of Corning Community College, previously served as assistant to the president of Bethany Center, where she was responsible for public relations and publications.

For the 49th year, members of the St. Ann Society praised, honored and thanked their patron saint with a parade from Emerson Street down Lexington Avenue to Most Precious Blood Church. The July parade, led by John Zeppetella, marked the end of the society's annual novena to St. Ann.

Neighbors

Sister Marlene Pape professed her final vows as a Sister of St. Joseph on Saturday, September 12, at the congregation's motherhouse. As the theme for the celebration, she chose "You are my God; you have done incredible miracles for me."

A graduate of Utica Catholic Academy, Sister Pape has earned a master's degree in nursing from the University of Rochester. She has worked as a community health nurse for the Monroe County Health Department, and as a school nurse at the School of the Holy Childhood. This month, she began a new job with the school health program of Nazareth Academy/Nazareth Hall.

Sister Pape is the daughter of Barbara Pape of Utica and Henry Pape of Mohawk, N.Y.

The Priests' Council of Rochester has announced the names of priests elected to serve as new regional representatives for 1987/88. They are: region 1 — Fathers Robert O'Neill and Michael Bausch; region 2 — Fathers Alexander Bradshaw and Frederick Bush; region 5 — Fathers William Graf and Peter Deckman; region 6 — Fathers John Dillon and Gerard Krieg; region 8 — Fathers Donald Curtiss and Joseph McCaffrey; region 9 — Fathers John Hayes and Eugene Weis.

Father Thomas Barrett, CSSR, was chosen to represent religious priests in the diocese. Other priests serving as elected members of the council for 1987/88 are: Fathers Raymond Booth, David Faraone, Patrick Connor, Norm Tanck, Frank McNamara, Edward Zenkel and Kevin Murphy.

M. Elizabeth Edmonds has been named the director of public relations at Nazareth College of Rochester. A former communications associate for the United Way of Greater Rochester, she will be responsible for media relations, publications, advertising and marketing.

Edmonds replaces James Graham, who has left Nazareth College after 27 years to work as a freelance writer and editor.

A native of Massachusetts, Edmonds earned a master's degree in communications from the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications at Syracuse University. She currently lives in Palmyra.

Two members of the staff at St. Patrick's Parish in Corning have left for new positions. Lynn McNamara, who served as parish business administrator, has accepted a new job as diet counselor for the Diet Center of Elmira Heights and Corning, and will also take classes at Corning Community College. Rectory Housekeeper Shirley Porter has become the secretary to the executive director of the Three Rivers Health Care Center in Gang Mills.

Wanda Jacobus and Debbie Piper will divide the housekeeping duties at the rectory between them. No replacement for McNamara has yet been named.

The head of Nazareth College's education department, Dr. Kay Marshman was one of 85 college administrators from across the country chosen to participate in the 1987 Management Development Program at Harvard University this summer.

Through two weeks of classes and informal discussions, the program aims to broaden participants' management perspectives and leadership skills.

Marshman, a Fairport resident, joined the Nazareth faculty in 1975, and has served as education department chairman since 1981.
