In Aquinas' other games last week, Bishop Ludden of Syracuse outscored the host Little Irish 24-2 in the second quarter to beat Dianetti's club, 66-50 on Saturday, Jan. 23. Mike Compisi led AQ with 14 points.

Franklin outrebounded visiting Aquinas, 48-25, before going on to a 64-39 win over the Little Irish on Tuesday, Jan. 19. In another telling statistic, the Quakers outscored the Little Irish, 32-12, in the second and third quarters to help key the win.

Postell paced AQ with 10 points.

CARDINAL MOONEY SUFFERED a heartbreaking 72-71 loss to Wilson on Friday, Jan. 22. Burnice Green was the hero for the host Wildcats, scoring 29 points and stealing the inbounds pass in the waning seconds of the game to ice the win over Ed Nietopski's Cardinals (5-5, 7-7).

Mooney was in control of the game early, leading 35-29 at the half, but a 23-8 scoring surge in the third quarter enabled the Wildcats to get back in it.

Mike Leonardo scored 24 points, and Keith Gaffney added 21 for Mooney.

Mooney didn't allow Monroe the same luxury on Tuesday, Jan. 19, as the visiting Cardinals led all the way in a 60-44 win over the Red Jackets.

Mike McGwin led all scorers with 23 points, while Leonardo poured in 16 points for Mooney, which shot 14-for-20 from the foul line.

HISTORY REVISITED DESALES over the weekend when host Harley-Allendale Columbia and the Saints got together on Saturday, Jan. 23. Shea Wallon's two from the stripe with :22 left gave H-A-C a 50-48 win over Tony Alvaro's Saints (9-6).

The game brought back memories of DeSales' heartwrenching one-point loss to H-A-C back in the 1986 Class C final at the War Memorial.

The result was better for DeSales on Friday, Jan. 22, when the visiting Saints cruised to a 76-56 win over Gananda. DeSales roared to a 40-20 halftime advantage and never looked back.

The Saints leading scorer this year, Pedro Rojas, led the charge with 18 points.

Against South Seneca on Wednesday, Jan. 20, the host Saints overcame a 38-35 halftime deficit before going on to beat their opponents, 66-63, in a barn burner.

Peter Parshall led the Saints with 18 points before fouling out. Rojas added 14 for Alvaro's club.

Sister Agnes Miriam Kennedy, RSM, dies at 90

Sister Agnes Miriam Kennedy, 90, a Sister of Mercy for almost 60 years, died January 14, 1988, at St. Mary's Hospital after a short illness. A Mass of the Resurrection was celebrated by Father John V. Rosse in the motherhouse chapel on Saturday, Jan. 16.

Born in Dansville on June 6, 1897, Sister Agnes Miriam's home parish was St. Mary's in Dansville. She entered the congregation of the Sisters of Mercy on January 21, 1928, at the age of 30. Received as a novice on August 30, 1928, Sister Agnes Miriam professed her final vows on August 30, 1933.

She would have been honored as a diamond jubilarian at the congregation's annual celebration this coming fall.

Sister Agnes Miriam taught in diocesan elementary schools — primarily at the junior high level — for 46 years. She was vice principal as well as a teacher at Our Lady of Mercy Grammar School in Greece from 1962-63 and taught at St. Cecilia's from 1963-65.

Sister Agnes Miriam also taught at St. Thomas the Apostle School in Rochester for 21 years; St. John the Evangelist in Rochester for 10 years; as well as St. Andrew's School; Holy Cross School; St. Patrick's School in Elmira; St. Vincent's School in Corning; and St. Salome's School in Sea Breeze.

In 1982, Sister Agnes Miriam moved to the Mercy Motherhouse on Blossom Road to live with the Omega Community of senior sisters. She had been living in Lourdes Hall, the sisters' infirmary, since January of 1986.

Sister Agnes Miriam is survived by a sister-in-law, Laura Bates of Dansville, as well as several cousins.

ny, which showed administrators ways to integrate multicultural programs and materials into their curricula.

According to Sister Steinwachs, several such multicultural programs are already underway in some diocesan schools.

"Many of our schools are doing what Our Lady of Perpetual Help is doing, whether it be with Vietnamese, Turkish or Polish students," Sister Steinwachs said.

Sister Mogenhan said the OLPH program even involved two Laotian families. She added that the English skills among all of the students in the outreach program seem to be improving.

The OLPH principal said she has high hopes for the program's future. "We do hope to expand the program; it would be nice to hire a full-time teacher," Sister Mogenhan said. "The hold back is transportation. We'd really need a bus, because the children come from as far away as St. Paul Street and Hudson (Avenue). We hope to add to the religious dimensions of their lives as well."

The experience has proved a fruitful one for Molino, who also serves as a translator for any communication between the school and the Hispanic parents. Molino admits she is somewhat envious of the way her students are absorbing new concepts and interacting with one another.

"When they speak to one another about things like Christmas, they hear different stories about different ways to celebrate holidays ... everyone is learning," Molino said. "And because they're young, they're keeping (what they learn) with them. I wish I went to school like this. The mixture is great."

called for us to be good stewards." He added that the MRC will continue in some form because, "it is essential (for the diocese) to have such a structure in existence."

Father McKenna, who also serves as vice chancellor of the diocese, observed that as an independent review body, the MRC is unique to Rochester. "I don't believe there are too many other dioceses that are using something like this to assist in reviewing programming," he said.

Father Frank DiSano, a new committee member, likewise noted that the MRC gives the people of the diocese a forum for providing input into diocesan operations. In creating such a forum, he added, the diocese is saying how highly it values such input.

"A lot of times there's a comment floating around the diocese that nobody has a say in the way things are run," Father DiSano said. "The MRC is one way to show we don't have an ivory tower here."
