Elmira Notre Dame High honors patron with student presentations

By Anthony Wang

Notre Dame High School On February 11, Notre Dame High School celebrated the Marian Year with a presentation honoring its patron, Our Lady of Lourdes. The presentation consisted of two parts: a dramatic production by the third-year French students; and a speech by Father Walter Wainwright, considered the Marian expert in of Southern Tier.

The dramatic production consisted of a slide show and students speaking at various times about St. Bernadette's encounters with Mary at Lourdes. Speaking from a soft spotlight, each speaker helped explain Mary's place in the tradition of the Church, and in particular the impact of the shrine of Lourdes in modern times. Another essential message of the program was that the most important miracles of Lourdes aren't the physical cures but the sense of peace and serenity attained by those who seek spiritual strength there.

Soon after this portion was done, Father Walter Wainwright took the stage. Father Wainwright, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Heart of Mary and a Notre Dame alumnus ('57) spoke to the students about Mary, making her life relevant to their lives. He pointed out the relatively young age at which Mary had to make a major decision and how she turned to prayer for support. This was basically a message to youth and an inspiration for all.

Through the program, Notre Dame students learned about the little intricacies of Mary's mission and her importance today.

"The Notre Dame students were a very receptive and responsive audience for this serious treatment of the patroness of our school," said Sister Edwina, a French teacher and moderator for the program.

The school has scheduled two more special Marian events: on March 25, the Feast of the Annunciation, Notre Dame will have a special visit from Bishop Matthew H. Clark: and on May 20, students will celebrate the traditional May Day ceremonies.

Nazareth to present musical 'Annie' in April

Nazareth Academy High School's annual spring musical this year is "Annie," which will be performed April 15-17, 22 and 23, in the school auditorium, 1001 Lake Ave., Rochester.

In addition to promoting optimism in the face of adversity, "Annie" also takes a lighthearted approach to portraying the hardships of orphaned children during the Great Depression. The musical is timed to coincide with The Month of the Child, and one-half of all of the play's profits are being donated to Project Morningstar, a home for foster children founded by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Rochester.

"It's important to put things in perspective," said Sister Mary Clouser, SSJ, producer of the musical and a teacher of biology and health at the school. "Our society today is somewhat parallel to the one before the Crash. Today, material things seem increasingly important as symbols of supposed happiness as well as status. But, Annie and Daddy Warbucks renew our faith in the human spirit when they sing 'I Don't Need Anything But You."

The show is being directed by Maria E. Sanguedolce, a graduate of Nazareth College and an alumna of Nazareth Academy. Sanguedolce taught at the academy from 1978 to 1986 and directed the school's musicals for three years. From 1980 to 1985, she worked on set design and construction for the Greece Performing Arts Society. Currently an art instructor at the Jefferson Road School in Pittsford, she is also an exhibiting potter.

"I use my art background in designing and directing," Sanguedolce said. "I have a more environmental approach than many directors, and my scenery is more art-oriented than most sets. We have used woven materials, soft sculpture and impressionism in our sets. I try to design the lighting and costumes to enhance this uniqueness. This year, historical research will be integral to my work on 'Annie'"

Marie E. Cockey is the show's musical director. A graduate of the Crane School of Music, Cockey has conducted choruses, choirs, bands and marching bands. In addition to teaching vocal and instrumental music, she has also directed the musical "Li'l Abner" at Nazareth.

Those who do not demonstrate any financial need will be eligible for an "Honorary Book Award" of $250.

Eligibility is limited to Hispanic students who are residents of Monroe County and who are applying to the University of Rochester as high school seniors or as transfer students.

The Nomination Committee will look for candidates with strong academic achievment and extracurricular or volunteer work experience. Candidates will also have a personal interview and write an essay. Applications for the scholarship are available in high school guidance offices and various community agencies.

McQuaid Jesuit High School What would be your ideal vacation?

KEVIN MURPHY, junior

My ideal vacation would be to ride motorcycles across Europe. It would be a "down to earth" way to see the countryside and meet the people. There is something adventuresome about this that sets it apart from the average family vacation in Florida. I think losing myself in the middle of Europe would be the ultimate experience.

MARK UNGERER, senior

My ideal vacation would be to go to Alaska and climb the frozen waterfalls in the national parks. Such a trip would not be as mundane as lying on a sunny beach, but rather one which you would have to use your strength and endurance. I think reaching the top of a waterfall would give me more satisfaction than wasting my vacation away on a crowded beach.

Mercy Mission Day concert to benefit world missions

Phyllis Constable, who has portrayed the Reverend Mother in Rochester and New York versions of the slapstick musical revue "Nunsense," and Alan Jones will team up for a concert at Our Lady of Mercy High School, 1436 Blossom Road, Rochester on Friday, March 25.

The event will begin with a spaghetti dinner from 5:30 to 8 p.m. Contestable and Jones will perform after dinner, and the affair will conclude with a sit-down dessert reception.

As Teens See It

CHRIS TRIPP. senior Skiing in Vail, Colorado, would be my ultimate vacation. My friends and myself would have our own condominium, hitting the ski slopes all day and the Vail night life all night. I couldn't think of a better way to spend a vacation.

ERIC ONA, senior

A safari in Africa is my dream vacation. I have always wanted to go there, and the adventure of a safari appeals to me. Also, seeing the exotic wildlife and meeting people who live so far from me would be an exhilarating experience - something most people never get a chance to do.

The cost of the concert/reception tickets are $10 for adults, and $7 for senior citizens and students. Combination tickets, which include dinner, concert and reception, are being offered at $12.99 for adults, and $9.99 for senior citizens and students. Proceeds will go to 33 missions in Rochester and around the world. Free baby-sitting with games and activities for children will be provided.
