The festival will also include a bicycle parade the same evening, a variety of games for children, a flea market, a country store booth and a chicken barbecue on August 6.

The festival, which will take place under a tent, will begin at 6 p.m. on August 5 and 5:30 p.m. on August 6. The chicken barbecue will cost $5 for adults and $3 for children under 12.

Shrine to U.S. saint blessed

St. Patrick's, Elmira — On Sunday, July 3, a shrine to St. Elizabeth Ann Seton was blessed in the church during the 11 a.m. Mass.

The shrine is an original creation: a life-size, bronze bas-relief of the saint, along with two flourishes featuring details of her life. It was made by Marte Celluar of Sodus.

The shrine, which was made possible by a donor who wishes to remain anonymous, brings to completion work begun in 1987 to restore the interior of the church.

Troy Beason has been elected student government president at McQuaid Jesuit High School for the 1988-89 school year. Beason is a member of the football and track teams. He is an honor student and a charter member of McQuaid's McNair-King Society — an organization dedicated to the advancement and support of black scholars.

Dr. Herman Berliss has been named the new associate medical director of St. Joseph's Hospital's Behavioral Science Unit. Also recently appointed a member of the hospital's active medical staff with privileges in psychiatry, Dr. Berliss practiced psychiatry in Metuchen, N.J., for eight years prior to coming to St. Joseph's.

The Elmira hospital has also announced other recent medical staff appointments. Dr. Joseph Chiota has been granted privileges in cardiology, having formerly served in the Division of Cardiology at the Westchester County Medical Center. After serving his residency in plastic surgery at the Downstate Medical Center in Brooklyn, Dr. Michael Reardon has joined St. Joseph's staff with privileges in plastic surgery. Dr. Bruce Bilder has been granted privileges in emergency medicine as a member of the associate medical staff. Dr. Theodore Papperman has been appointed a member of the specified professional personnel staff with privileges in psychology.

St. Joseph's has also announced that Nancy Jean Cooper, a St. John Fisher College junior, is serving an administrative internship in the hospital's Community Relations and Fund Development Office.

Author Susan Wojciechowski, of St. Mary's Parish in Rochester, has received two honors for her book, And the Other, Gold. The book was named one of the best children's books of year by the book review committee of the Bank Street College in New York City, and was selected for listing in the New York City Library's Books for the Teen Age.

Parish Notes

Charismatic Mass scheduled

St. Mary's, Auburn — A First Friday charismatic Mass will be celebrated in the parish's Lyceum Hall on Friday, August 5. Singing will begin at 7:15 p.m., followed by the Mass at 7:30. Refreshments will be served after the service. All are welcome.

Deacon to lead pilgrimage

St. Mary's, Corning — Deacon Ray Defendorf will host another nine-day pilgrimage to the Holy Land beginning on January 15, 1989.

The price of this tour — which includes round trip airfare, first-class hotel accommodations, breakfast and dinner each day, English-speaking tour guides and daily lectures by noted biblical scholars — is $1,198 per person.

For information, write to Deacon Defendorf at 60 West Third St., Corning, N.Y., or call (607)937-5858.

Group 'extends' Marian Year

St. Thomas the Apostle, Irondequoit — The parish's pro-life group decided to "extend" the Marian Year — officially scheduled to end on August 15, 1988, the Feast of the Assumption — until the Feast of St. Joseph, March 19, 1989.

The extension is to mark the role that St. Joseph and all fathers play in protecting and defending innocent human life.

On June 19 of this year, the group presented a special Father's Day recognition of fathers and St. Joseph, and on July 19 members participated in the service of praise to the Mother of God, celebrated in the church by Melkite Deacon Joseph V. Versage.

Upcoming activities include a pilgrimage to the basilica of Our Lady of Victory in Lackawanna and the Fatima Shrine on Sunday, August 14, and a noontime sacraments of reconciliation and the Eucharist to be held at Our Lady of Victory/St. Joseph Church in September.

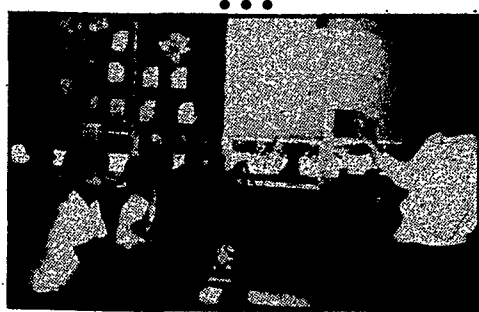

For information about the trip to the basilica, call (716)426-0583 or 458-3858.
