Seminar to focus on racism

NEWARK VALLEY — "Healing the Sickness," a seminar on racism, is scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 28, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at St. John's Parish Center, 24 Rock St., Newark Valley. The keynote speaker for the program will be Dorothy F. Cotton, a civil-rights advocate, educator and colleague of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Cotton has been the director of student activities at Cornell University since 1982. She worked closely with Dr. King in designing and facilitating training programs to develop local leadership in the South and promote social change using non-violent strategies.

The agenda for the seminar includes human relations and exercises, as well as a presentation on the history of black men and women in Tioga County. The seminar is sponsored by the Tioga County Catholic Social Ministry Committee, the Southern Tier Office of Social Ministry and the Office of Black Ministries of the Rochester diocese. Call the STQSM at 607/734-9784 for information.

School sets registration dates

OWEGO — Registration at St. Patrick's for the 1989-90 school year is scheduled for Jan. 31 and Feb. 2. The school, which is located at 309 Front St. in Owego, is open to students pre-k through grade five.

Loretta Hayton, school principal, will be available from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. for questions. Call the school at 607/687-1770 for information.

Parishioners are also asked to continue collecting old newspapers. Paper should be bundled or put in brown paper bags for easy handling. Drop-off dates are Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 18 and 19 in the school parking lot. The hours will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, and 9 a.m. to noon on Sunday. Pick-up service for large amounts of paper will be provided in the village only. Call Jane Woody at 687-6675 for information.

'Fat Tuesday' party planned

AUBURN — St. Francis Parish's annual Mardi Gras party will be held Saturday, Feb. 4, beginning at 6:15 p.m. in the St. Francis Assisi School hall, on the corner of Brookfield and Clark streets.

A dinner of roast pork with all the trimmings will be served from 6:15 to 8:15. Musical entertainment will follow.

Donation for the evening will be $7 for adults and $3.50 for children ages six to 12. Children five and under will be admitted free. Tickets may be purchased from members of the Altar Society, Social Ministry Committee and Sacred Heart Society or at the rectory, 185 Clark St., Auburn.

Blessing of children planned

WAYLAND — Father Paul R. Schnacky, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, invites all to bring their babies and small children to the church to be blessed. The service will take place Sunday, Feb. 5, at 3 p.m. in the church, 206 Fremont St., Wayland.

The blessing is not limited to children baptized at St. Joseph's, nor to children of the parish. Following the service, refreshments will be served in the school gym.

Penny social set for March

COHOCTON — The annual penny social is scheduled for Tuesday, March 7. Donations of new or handmade items, plants, foods and more are needed. Call 607/384-5500 for information.

Rectory schedules new hours

CORNING — The St. Mary's Church rectory has new evening and weekend hours, and is looking for volunteers to work them.

The new hours are: Monday-Friday, 7-8:30 p.m.; Saturday, noon to 4 p.m.; and Sunday, 2-4 p.m. Weekday business hours are 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. A staff member is on duty during lunch and from 4-7 p.m. weekdays, but this person can only handle Mass cards and messages.

Teenagers interested in working the new hours on a rotating schedule with three to four other people should call 607/962-0422 for information. Volunteers must be at least 16 years old. Duties include filling out Mass cards, answering the telephone and stuffing bulletins with inserts. Additional duties may be required.

At the December 12 meeting of the St. Mary's, Canandaigua, Parish Council, the following new officers were elected: Bill Eshenour, chairman; Teresa Dendis, vice chairwoman; Diane Keiffer, recording secretary; and Mary Ilacqua, corresponding secretary.

Restart's Liberty Manor, a residential treatment program for women substance abusers and their children, has received a $1,000 grant from the Junior League of Rochester to fund research for a therapeutic recreation program. The data collected will help determine whether recreational therapy should become part of each Restart resident's treatment program.

Marvin Mich, associate professor of moral theology at St. Bernard's Institute, has been appointed dean of the institute by Father Sebastian Falcone, president of St. Bernard's. Mich, who holds a master of theology degree from St. Francis Seminary of Milwaukee and a doctorate from the Alphonsonian Institute of Lateran University in Rome, has been a faculty member at St. Bernard's since 1982. In his new position, he will be responsible for academic programs and faculty leadership, as well as student advisement and recruitment.

At graduation ceremonies Dec. 18, 1988, at St. Ignatius Loyola Church, Hornell, Mary Schock received the Medical Staff Award for having the highest scholastic standing in the graduating class of the St. James Mercy Hospital School of Nursing. Doris Kerr received the Faculty Award and the Women's Board Award for second-highest average in the class.

Carol Weirich received the Sister Mary Aid Award, given each year by the Sisters of Mercy to the student who "best exemplifies the profession of nursing." The St. James School of Nursing Alumni Achievement Award was presented to Monica McIntosh. Also in the graduating class were Lorna Shepherd and Sherry Osmin.

At the 1988 convention of the Empire State School Press Association at Syracuse University, Mercedes, the literary magazine of Our Lady of Mercy High School was recognized as the best magazine in a New York state high school. In addition to being recognized as the best magazine, Mercedes received a first prize for best poetry. Mercy student Meghan Bielat received the award for best poem and a second prize for best personal essay. Juliana Buck won second place in the short story category, and Liza Savage received third prize for her cover design of the magazine. Editor of the award-winning magazine was Erin Fitzgerald, now furthering her writing studies at Sarah Lawrence College. Savage and Tamara Nechipurenko shared the duties of art editors for the magazine.

Students at Mother of Sorrows School enjoy a visit from a robot police officer. The visitation program, sponsored by Tops Food Markets, is intended to inform students about the health and safety rules necessary for their well being.

Fourth-, fifth- and sixth-grade students at Our Lady of Good Counsel School are participating in the "Weekly Reader" Writing Pals program. They are corresponding with fourth-grade students in Rockdale, Texas; fifth-grade students in Waverly, Kansas; and sixth-grade students in Wichita, Kan.

In February, the school will receive a complementary kit from the Polaroid Education Program, which is working in conjunction with the Writing Pals program. The kit includes a free camera and film, and a classroom poster that the students will be able to exchange with their correspondents.
