Four years ago, Jean-Phillipe Rigaud had a choice to make.

When Jean-Phillipe Rigaud chose Franciscan University of Steubenville, it meant that he turned down other options that included football scholarships and an appointment to West Point.

From my first contact with the Admissions Office at Steubenville, I was impressed with the care and attention that I received. I felt people here had something important to give me. Steubenville offered the opportunity to grow in a vibrant Catholic faith while getting a solid education.

Here, I see college students who are growing in commitment to know, love and serve God in the Church and the world.

It's been said that Franciscan University of Steubenville is to the Church what West Point is to the United States. I believe it's true."
