

Planning a vacation? How about a cruise?

by Sally Smith

Cruising is one of the best values in the travel market today. It's an all-inclusive vacation which you can plan and know exactly what your costs are going to be before you go. The price usually includes all meals, your cabin, activities, nighttime entertainment, and transportation to some of the most popular ports in the world. In addition, air fare from your departure city is often included in the price and passengers are usually met at the airport and transported to the ship. This is just the beginning of the pampering and impeccable service which you will experience on a cruise.

Once aboard your "floating resort" the vacation of your life begins. The ship is your traveling hotel. One of the nicest features of a cruise vacation is that there is no need for constant packing unpacking — the ports of call come to you. Daytime activities are endless — exercise classes, swimming, poolside games, trapshooting, tennis, ping-pong, horseracing, bingo, bridge and feature films. In the evening you have as many choices — nightclub shows, dancing, cocktail lounges, and for those who like to take chances with "Lady Luck", most ships have casino. Most important to consider is that all of these activities and the entertainment are included; there is no fee for activities and no cover charge or minimums for the entertainment, plus you don't have to make reservations or stand in line to get tickets for the shows.

It's easy to understand why the place many people enjoy most on a cruise is the ship itself, but the ports are also exciting. Shore excursions can be arranged right on board and again the choices are endless — organized tours, shopping, snorkeling, scuba diving, golf — simply relaxing on a beautiful beach. A cruise is a perfect way to see the great destinations of the world and there is usually enough time for you to get a taste of the unique flavor of each port.

Speaking of taste — everything you have heard about cruise ship dining is true. You will never eat better or see food more tastefully prepared. There are two things you can be sure of — you will never go hungry and you will never get a bill. All of your meals are included (even room service) and you can have anything and everything you want.

By now, you're probably convinced that you'll never be bored on a cruise, but you may be saying "I don't want to be that busy. I go on vacation to relax". One of the options is to do nothing at all. Once you set sail you'll notice how easy it is to leave your busy lifestyle behind you and RELAX. No smog, no noise, no hectic time schedule — you can just lie back and let your worries float out to sea. Nothing can make this happen any faster than the fresh air, sea and sun that you will soak up on a cruise.

Compare a cruise vacation to the total cost of any other vacation option and you will be amazed at the value.
